RUSSIANS IN BRISK BATTLE TAKE KALUSZ

BRILLIANT DRIVE OF KORNILOFF CONTINUES

Austro-German Headquarters Was Situated In That Sector

German Crown Prince Attacks Verdun Front; is Repulsed

General Brusiloff's offensive in Galicia is developing into a drive with little or no letup, at least so far as the part in it played by General Korniloff's armies is concerned. Yesterday's news of the capture of Halicz was followed today by the announcement that Gen. Korniloff's troops had pushed on beyond Lesiuvka, southwest of Stanislaw, and reached and occupied Kalusz, a city of 8,000 population, seven miles to the west of the Stoka river. The Austro-German headquarters in this sector was situated here.

Kalusz was stubbornly defended, but after a sanguinary battle the Russians pushed into the town, and according to advices from Petrograd, they are continuing their advance after having taken a large number of prisoners.

The German attack on Monday on the Belgian coast ceased with the capture of the small sector east of the Yser, which the Germans had devastated with their intensive gunfire. Neither last night's or today's British official announcement records any further fighting of moment in this region, although the artillery is continuing active. A German raid near Lombaertzyde was driven off by the British.

On the Verdun front the German crown prince made a number of attacks on both banks of the Meuse. All these assaults, delivered in the vicinity of Hill 304 on the one side and the stream and north of the Hardamont work on the other, were repulsed by the French, as were attacks on the Aisne front south of Juventout and in the region of the triangle plateau.

Official announcement that Kalusz in Galicia, had been occupied by the Russians was made today coupled with the statement that the occupation was effected after a sanguinary battle.

Kalusz is a city of about 8,000 population, 28 miles southeast of Stoka. Yesterday the Russians had reached the Posiecz-Lesiuvka-Karusz line south and west of Stanislaw. The central point of this line is Lesiuvka, four miles west of the river Bystrzyca. It is about seven miles east of Kalusz, the nearest large town west of Stanislaw and which is situated in a bend of the Stoka river.

According to information received the Russian troops are continuing their successful advance and have taken a large number of prisoners.

COPPER CHIEF IS MADE DIRECTOR OF MILITARY RELIEF

(Special to The Advocate)

Washington, July 12.—As the latest addition to the group of business executives of broad national experience enlisted as volunteers in the service of the Red Cross during the war, Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross War Council, announces the appointment of John D. Ryan, president of the Anadonda Copper Company, to the post of Director General of Military Relief.

Mr. Ryan will succeed Colonel Jefferson R. Keane, who has been recalled from service in the Red Cross, and is to be placed in charge of the 150 United States Army ambulance sections in the theatre of war in France. In making this appointment Mr. Davison said:

"It is due to Colonel Keane's magnificent work in organizing base hospital units in this country that the Red Cross organization was the first to carry the American flag to France, after our entrance into the war. Col. Keane is peculiarly qualified for the great work he is to do abroad."

"The department of Military Relief of which Colonel Keane has been in charge is of supreme importance in the work of the Red Cross, and we are therefore most fortunate in obtaining the administrative genius of Mr. Ryan to take charge of this work."

"Like Judge Lovett and other able and successful business men who are contributing their services to the nation through the Red Cross in this war, Mr. Ryan will in this position be able to do his bit in a way of immense importance. The Red Cross War Council is perfectly delighted to procure his services."

FAMOUS PIANIST IS NOW IN ARMY BAND

Percy Grainger.

Percy Grainger, the distinguished pianist and composer, is now shorn of his flowing locks and is playing a saxophone in the United States Coast Artillery band for a wage of $30 a month. He has been used to $1000 a performance and recently he raised $2,600 for the Red Cross. Grainger is an Australian and received his education in Europe.

SINN FEINER

ELECTED TO PARLIAMENT AND PAPERS REGARD SITUATION GRAVELY THREATENING.

Irish Section of House of Commons Regard Result As a Death Blow to Nationalist Party.

(Associated Press Telegram)

London, July 12.—The election of Edward de Valera as member of parliament for East Clare, the third Sinn Feiner to be returned to parliament of late, is treated as an event of great political consequence by the morning papers which devote considerable space to the victory. The tendency of the Unionist press, reflecting their advices from Belfast and Dublin, is to emphasize what it always contended—the folly of the government in liberating Sinn Fein prisoners and refraining to deal with revolutionary talk and acts as such would be dealt with in England. These papers regard the situation as gravely threatening for they see nothing in the Sinn Fein movement but rebellion.

The Liberal press also is alarmed but, rather for the position of the official Nationalist party and for the prospect for the establishment of constitutional home rule. The Sinn Fein movement is regarded in the same quarter as an expression of discontent and vehement resentment of a long course of administrative folly, indicating rather a lack of confidence with present parliamentary methods than a revolutionary tendency and in this respect, resembling a state of mind which often leads Prussian electors, who themselves are not at all Socialists, to support Socialist candidates at the polls.

The Telegraph's parliamentary reporter says all the Irish sections of the house of commons regard the result as virtually a death blow to the Nationalist party—the end of constitutional agitation and the beginning of republicanism. It is declared that no Nationalist seat outside of Dublin is now safe. The Irish Times considers that East Clare voted for a program of revolution. "The Sinn Fein policy so far has developed on destruction and bitterness, prominent with menace to the peace of Ireland, yet this policy triumphed over the memory of a devoted soldier (Major William Redmond) and swept the Nationalists out of a seat held without opposition for 20 years," says the Irish Times.

The Dublin Express says the victory is the most portentous thing in modern Irish political history. "It is clear," the paper says, "that the Nationalists can do little at a convention but record their pious opinions."

POLICE OFFICIALS PLACED ON TRIAL

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, July 12.—The trial of three police lieutenants and two detective sergeants, all of whom were connected with the Cramer murder case, on charges of neglect of duty were to begin today before Leon Godley, deputy police commissioner. The men are Lieutenants William Brown, who is charged with making a false statement as well as neglect of duty; John J. Flannelly and Francis Stankamp, and Detective Sergeants John L. Lagarene and Francis McGee.

NEWARK MUST FURNISH 178 MEN FOR WAR

Two Thirds of One Per Cent of Dummy Population Called

DRAWING TO BE DELAYED UNTIL LAST OF NEXT WEEK

If Credit is Given For Men In Service Number Will Be Reduced

Following the announcement yesterday of the estimates of the population of Ohio cities, today speculation is rife as to the number to be taken from Newark and Licking county. The estimates were made by the bureau of census from the figures obtained at the registration for selective draft.

According to the first call draft quotas fixed by the war department Newark's men will number a fraction over 178. The census bureau, figured the number of men registered as 9.32 per cent of the total population, thus estimating a dummy population of the cities, counties and state for computing draft quotas.

Each city, county or state must furnish two-thirds of one per cent of its dummy population as its quota in the draft. The population of Ohio is estimated to be 6,074,731, therefore Ohio's call would be for 40,747 men. Newark has a dummy population of 26,760, and two-thirds of one per cent of this makes her quota 178.

If the draft is made according to these advices from Washington and credit is given for the men who are already in the service by enlistment, the city will have to furnish but few men under the selective draft. The city's estimated population is 21,577 and two-thirds of one per cent of this gives about 143 men as the county's first call. This will also be reduced if credit is given for the men already in the service, many of whom will be mobilized for the first time when the O. N. G. is called together on July 15.

Newark has over fifty men in Company B, Fourth Ohio Infantry, a number at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, also in the navy and there were many recent enlistments in the new divisional motor train.

In connection with these a number of men have gone to Columbus where they enlisted in the regular army. If these are all accredited to the quota, Newark may not have to furnish any men when the drawing is made.

Owing to the failure of a number of states to complete the organization of the district exemption boards, it is possible the drawing of the numbers will be postponed until next week.

The local exemption board, consisting of Dr. W. H. Knauss, A. A. Stassel, William Morgan and Walter Symons, is organized and ready for work.

The drawing will be made by serial numbers. In the list of names and addresses the numbers begin with number 1 and run serially until a number has been given every name on every list. Many have been under the impression that the number on the registration card (the registration certificate, being the card given them on June 5, registration day) is their draft number but this is incorrect. The list of names with the numbers are posted in a public place in every district so that every man may know his own draft numbers before the numbers are drawn.

INDIGNATION

AROUSED IN SWEDEN OVER OFFICIAL REPORT ON SWEDEN'S EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.

Covers Country's Exports to Germany in Great Quantities for Making Ammunition.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Stockholm, July 12.—General resentment and indignation has been aroused in Sweden by a news dispatch from Washington given what is termed "an official report to the government" on Sweden's exports and imports. The report for which the authority is not named, declares that Sweden exported to Germany great quantities of materials, especially iron ore, ferrosilicon, manganese, steel, copper, sulphur, zinc and imported from Germany a large quantity of surplus exports.

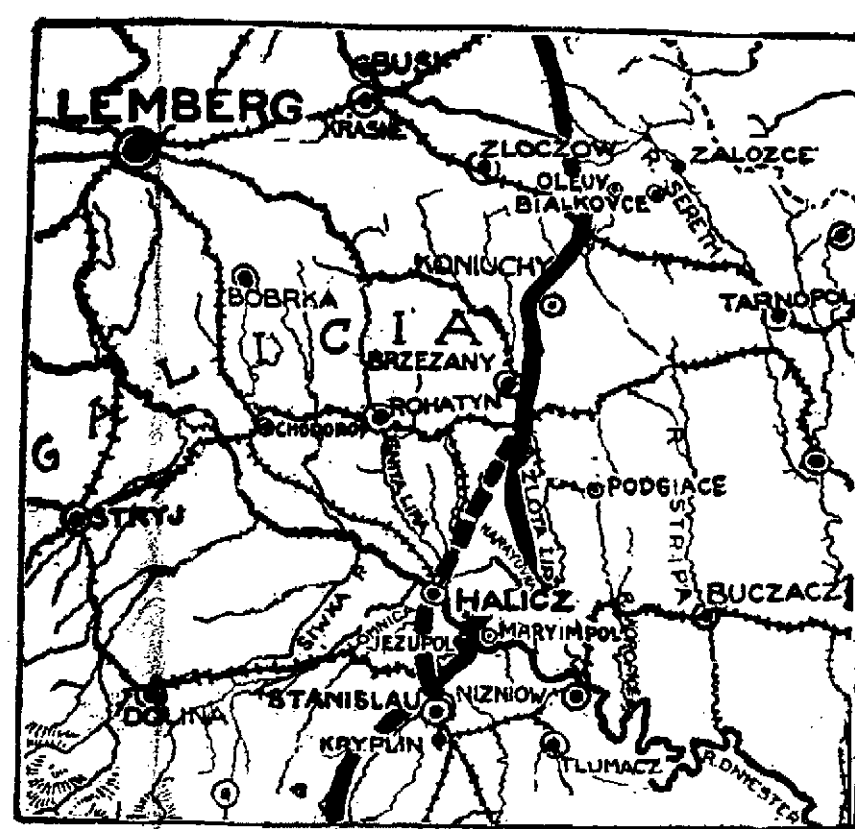

Even newspapers most friendly to America join the chorus of indignation and condemnation of these charges. The papers call attention to America's attitude regarding exports and arraign what they term the government's inconsistency. They declare that America repeatedly protested to England against precisely the same policy which America threatens to adopt against Sweden.

The map's dotted line shows General Korniloff's recent gains in Galicia, and the possession of Halicz, the strategic key to Lemberg. The co-operation of the Seventh and Eleventh Russian armies north of Halicz with the Eighth army south of that city has gone forward with faultless precision. Military critics declare that the Austrian and German armies in Galicia have been greatly demoralized by Korniloff's powerful advance and that the break of the Austro-German line in the Halicz-Stanislaw sector indicates further rapid advances of the Russian forces.

CENSUS DEPARTMENT FURNISHES INTERESTING FIGURES ON THE POPULATION OF OHIO CITIES

(Associated Press Telegram)

Columbus, July 12.—Under the new census figures which were issued yesterday by the government, based on the recent draft registration, Ohio will have to furnish 40,498 men for the conscript army, a number far bigger than earlier estimates, official say.

When the meaning of the new population figures became understood today they fairly staggered officials. The swollen figures, officials said, are due to war industries which have drawn a large temporary population of workers to some sections of the state and are not the real population because many of these workers, it is believed, will be shifted to other places after the war. According to the new census figures, Cleveland is now the fifth city in the country, with a population of 1,125,000. Following are the new population figures for the larger Ohio cities and their estimated draft quota:

	Population	Draft Quota
Cleveland	1,125,000	7,502
Cincinnati	436,325	2,909
Toledo	363,384	2,425
Akron	338,344	2,255
Columbus	243,348	2,255
Youngstown	228,380	1,522
Canton	177,586	1,183
Dayton	151,370	1,007
Springfield	61,477	409

OHIO MILITIAMEN GO INTO SERVICE SOME TIME SUNDAY

(Associated Press Telegram)

Columbus, July 12.—State headquarters of the Ohio National Guard today had assumed the appearance of a real army headquarters. Preparations are well in hand for getting all units into service Sunday, save that trouble is being experienced in finding places to use for quarters where armories are not large enough for the war-strengthened organizations. All men of the ammunition and supply trains and the military headquarters police, some 1,400 in all, will be brought to Columbus and housed on state fair grounds. Buildings will be used for sleeping quarters because of lack of tentage.

The three new units were over-recruited today. Lieutenant Colonel Perin Monypeny started less than 10 days ago to organize the units. It is believed a record was established in filling them in such short time. Akron has four companies, Dayton four, Columbus four, Cambridge and Coshocton together have enough men for one and a half; Toledo has enough for two and one-half; Lima raised 30 men and Mansfield, Canton, Youngstown and Ottawa have reported a company each. The men will be divided and assigned to the ammunition train or the supply train, both motorized, later. Cincinnati reported 181 men recruited, most of these for the military police. Medical corps officials today were sending out orders for reporting for duty. Several promotions and commissions of officers were announced among them the following: First Lieutenant for medical corps: Albert C. Geringer, Cincinnati; general hospital: Louis Field, Jr., Cincinnati; Howard R. Hecker, Akron; Earl Z. Alsop, Keokuk; Guthrie O'Brien, Bucyrus; and Merthyn A. Thomas, Cleveland; Jos. H. Brayer, Columbus, was named second lieutenant in the veterinary corps; Capt. E. E. Alexander of Jackson, first lieutenant in dental corps; William Oliver Semons, Delaware, and Norton A. Bayless, Massillon, first lieutenants in the dental corps.

ITALIAN

MEMBER OF COMMISSION TO UNITED STATES GIVES STATEMENT TO PARIS

Agreement Between Allies Is Perfect and No Divergency of Views Has Occurred.

Paris, July 12.—Francisco Nitti, former Italian minister of agriculture, who is a member of the Italian mission, which has just returned from the United States made the following statement to the Petit Parisien on his way through Paris to Rome:

"The United States is firmly resolved to assist the entente financially. The agreement in that regard is complete. Difficulties arise when we come to the question of organizing methods of collaboration between the United States and the entente nations in respect of food and freight. It is a question of creating an enormous organization which gives rise to initial uncertainties that are quite comprehensible."

"One thing is certain—the United States has full consciousness of its responsibilities. That being the case, it will find the means of reconciling the needs of the allies, which are primarily economic with its desire to give us military assistance. The delay in bringing this about is the matter of tonnage."

"The agreement among the allies is perfect. No divergency of views have ever occurred between their representatives and the United States. There are discussions, even divisions in regard to questions of detail, but in general the union is perfect."

CHINESE

UNDER MONARCHY ARRESTED WHILE ATTEMPTING TO ESCAPE FROM CAPITAL.

Republican Cabinet Will Be Transferred to Peking in the Very Near Future.

Tien Tsin, July 12.—Cheng Chin Fang and Lei Chen Chun, ministers of finance and war respectively, under the monarchy, were arrested on a train at Feng Tai while endeavoring to escape from Peking. Feng Lin Ko, the Manchurian general, whose intentions were suspected was unexpectedly arrested in the Tien Tsin railroad station. He was disguised.

Tuan Chi Jui, leader of the republican forces, referring to Wu Ting Fang's telegram that he has installed himself minister of foreign affairs at Shanghai, states Wu has been dismissed from office and that all actions after he had left Peking were irresponsible. Tuan Chi Jui said the cabinet which had been established at Tien Tsin will be transferred to Peking and that it alone will undertake all diplomatic dealings.

MACHINE FOR EVERY 29 INHABITANTS IN THE UNITED STATES

Washington, July 12.—There is one automobile for every 29 inhabitants in the United States, according to figures for last year, made public by the federal public roads bureau today.

Iowa, with one car for every 11 persons, led the country in the number of machines registered in proportion to population. California, Nebraska and South Dakota ranked next in order. Arkansas, with one automobile for every 116, is at the foot of the list. The New England states were more uniformly supplied with motor cars than any other section, it was stated.

FAIRNESS TO GOVERN THE DRAFT PLAN

Pres. Wilson Determined That No Favoritism Shall Be Shown

FOR THAT REASON PLAN WITHHELD FOR PRESENT

Drawing at Washington and Numbers Flashed By Telegraph

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, July 12.—Persistent inquiries from all parts of the country for information about the methods to be followed in selecting men for the national war army caused war department officials to explain today that President Wilson's determination to have absolute fairness govern the process, was responsible for the decision to withhold announcement of the exact plan until the very eve of the drawing.

The exemption regulations and all other moves in the making of the new army have received the approval of the president personally and the draft regulations also will come from the White House. All that is known now is that the drawing will be from serial numbers corresponding to numbers on registration cards and that it will take place in Washington, probably at the capitol, Secretary Baker or some other high official will draw the first number and then the process of selection will be pushed forward until there is flashed by telegraph to every community in the country the numbers of the men drawn. It is understood that the system planned is so simple that the work will be done in a few hours. So far only 21 states have reported to the provost general's office the completion of their organization. In some of them the names and serial numbers of the men liable to draft already have been posted. The first city to report the completion of that part of her work was Kansas City.

Some fear was felt at the war department today that the delays in organization might cause further postponement of the draft. It has been believed that the drawing might take place Saturday of this week. It then became evident that it could not be held before next week and indications today were that it might be the latter part of next week before everything was ready. One of the states where there has been the most confusion in organization is New York.

The new estimate of population made by the census bureau as a basis for the draft, it is explained, is not to be taken as a genuine indication of the actual population of cities and communities. In some communities industrial conditions have given a city a population much greater than it normally has and in other cities where industrial activities are at low ebb the registration failed to show actually present the number which the census bureau had given. Moreover as the object of the estimates is to fix a fair basis for establishing local quotas, industrial centers with disproportionately large numbers of young men subject to draft have been given figures probably considerably in excess of the number of people actually within their borders.

As soon as the local organizations are completed, appointment of the exemption boards will be announced. These boards, one or more in each federal judicial district, will pass upon appeals from the local bodies and will have original jurisdiction over claims for exemption on account of employment in industrial enterprises. Nominations for the boards proposed from 45 states already have been sent to the president by the provost marshal general's office.

FIRST STEP FOR SUPERVISION BY THE GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, JULY 12.—Creation of a division of car service to deal with the movement, distribution, exchange, interchange and return of freight cars was announced today by interstate commerce commission.

E. H. Degroot has been appointed chief of the division. A. G. Guthrie will have executive charge of the organization and its operation, assisted by H. C. Barlow.

Through this division the commission will regulate car service throughout the country through direct orders to the carriers, with the purpose of dealing with car shortage and seeing that troops, war materials and necessary supplies are moved promptly.

The creation of the new division, which is the first definite government step for permanent supervision over traffic movements, is in accordance with the car service, approved May 29, amending the act to regulate commerce. The urgent necessity for regulation in the distribution of cars has been pointed out to the commission many times by both shippers and carriers.

DILLON MYER AS FARM AGENT IS MAKING GOOD

Improved farming was inaugurated on a systematic basis in Vandenberg county, Indiana, little more than a year ago. It has borne fruit in better stock, better crops and profits correspondingly better but the truly beneficent buds are those which have blossomed out in the shape of a new generation of farmers, says Barle V. Hiltch in the Evansville, Ind., Courier.

In a feature story Mr. Hiltch tells of the wonders accomplished by Dillon S. Myer, county agricultural agent during the past year. Mr. Myer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Myer of Buckeye Lake. He has organized boys and girls club work, farmers clubs and improvement associations which are working towards better agricultural conditions.

Mr. Myer who is a scientific farmer with college training, rides 50 to 75 miles through the county every day in his automobile and keeps in close touch with the farmers of the whole county.

One of the principal matters of interest just now is the big contest among the boys of the county. Over a dozen lads have bought thoroughbred porkers which they expect to develop into first class slaughter and brood hogs by fall. The boy who has the best hog will be given a scholarship in Purdue University. Wide interest is being taken and it is expected that more pig clubs will be formed next year.

Soil cultivation, dairying, soil improvement, new crops, eradication of dog cholera, insects and other pests farm management, marketing—these are some of the things Agent Myer is bringing to the attention of the farmers and results show that it pays.

PROBATE CRIMINAL COURT.
Criminal court was held in probate court this morning.

Mrs. Nancy Hester was found guilty of receiving stolen goods and was fined $10 and costs.

The case of John Ammerino, charged with assault on Charles Henningsen was continued the defendant demanding a jury trial.

The case of Clinton Dresbach vs. the State of Ohio was continued until 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The cases of Edward E. Lake, Samuel Warner and Edward Lescallier against the Everett Gas and Oil Co. have been carried to the court of appeals. The defendant won the cases in common pleas court.

THE HOME BUILDING ASSOCIATION COMPANY OF NEWARK, OHIO

SUPPLIES FOR THE AMERICAN TROOPS LOST ON STEAMER

New York, July 12.—War supplies consigned to the American troops in France went down with the American steamship Kansas yesterday, reported sunk by a German submarine. They were shipped by the National War Work Council of the Young Men's Christian Association. It was announced here today. They included $18,000 worth of four, sugar, biscuits, chewing gum, tents, chairs, organs, athletic equipment, and other material. They will be duplicated as quickly as possible, it was stated.

AVIATION FIELD READY.

Dayton, O., July 12.—The first class of students from the Ohio State University are expected to arrive at the federal flying field here, late Saturday to begin their actual flying experiences. The field is being whipped into shape for the arrival of the men and all available airplanes, about 25 in number, are being set up preparatory to flights. Captain A. R. Christie, commandant at the field, will make the first flight either late today or tomorrow, thus formally dedicating the field to United States military service.

WAS SHOT BY WOMAN.

Cincinnati, O., July 12.—James Johnson, 42, married, business agent of the local painters' union, died early today from a bullet wound inflicted by Mrs. Bessie Roth late last night.

Johnson was shot while in the apartments of Mrs. Roth. According to a confession made to the police by Mrs. Roth, Johnson had been a frequent caller at her home during the absence of her husband. Mrs. Roth said she shot Johnson in self-defense.

AMERICANS AT MONTEVIDEO.

Montevideo, July 12.—The American squadron arrived here at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was escorted into the harbor by Uruguayan warships. The president of the committee of foreign affairs of the chamber of deputies met the squadron and invited the officers and men to come ashore.

Thousands of persons gathered to witness the arrival of the Americans. All the larger commercial houses were closed and business was virtually suspended. The city is profusely decorated in honor of the visitors.

HAMILTON LABOR TROUBLES.

Hamilton, O., July 12.—Hamilton faces a general strike of all trades unions should any further endeavor be made to bring strike-breakers into the city. This was the attitude of the So-operative Trades' and Labor Council last night, and international representatives of all unions have been summoned to Hamilton. However, it is believed that the labor situation is gradually being solved.

BRITISH CASUALTIES.

London, July 12.—The total British casualties resulting from the German success near Neuport, Belgium, on Tuesday were about 1800, including prisoners. These figures were given by Major General F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the war office today.

GERMANS REPULSED.

Paris, July 12.—After a violent bombardment the Germans tried several surprise attacks during the night on both banks of the Meuse but were repulsed, according to a statement by the war office today.

CHAMBERLAIN RESIGNS.

London, July 12.—J. Austen Chamberlain, secretary for India, has resigned.

GAS MASKS FOR TROOPS.

Washington, July 12.—Army orders today disclose the fact that the government and civilian experts are hard at work on the production of an effective anti-gas mask for American troops. Major L. P. Williamson, of the medical corps, has been ordered to Pittsburgh, Pa., Baltimore and New Haven to inspect laboratory work in this connection being done there.

WOULD CLOSE THE PICTURE HOUSES.

A delegation of ministers called on Mayor R. C. Bigbee at his office in the city building with reference to closing the moving picture theaters on Sunday. They insisted that the movie houses be closed, but have not as yet filed an affidavit against any of the promoters. They requested Mayor Bigbee to take action, but that official was noncommittal when asked as to what he would do stating that if affidavits were filed it would be his official duty to act on same.

Famous Men's Favorite Hymns.

Favorite hymns of famous men make an interesting catalogue. Gladstone's special choice was "Praise to the Holiest in the Height," and it was sung at his funeral. Tennyson's favorite was Robert's "Holy, Holy, Holy." One of Ruskin's preferences was "Jesus, Here I am, here I am," upon which he preached a sermon to some 200 school children, his guests one afternoon at Ramsgate. Matthew Arnold's choice was "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross" (Watt's masterpiece), the third verse of which M. A. was overheard reciting to himself only an hour before his quite unexpected fatal seizure. And Henry Ward Beecher declared, "I would rather have written Jesus, Lover of My Soul than have the fame of all the kings that ever sat on the earth."—London Standard.

COIN DECLINES.

Chicago, July 12.—December and May corn made net declines of 5-1-1/2 cents today as a result of the action of directors of the Board of Trade in fixing the maximum price at $1.28. December closed at 1.19-1/8 and May at 1.15-5/8. Meanwhile No. 2 white corn in the cash market attained a new high record of 1.32-1-2.

BIG ROUND UP AT BISBEE OF THE I. W. W. WORKERS

Phoenix, Arizona, July 12.—One thousand members of the Industrial Workers of the world were being rounded up at Bisbee today by armed members of the Citizens' Protective League and will be deported.

This morning members of the organization, which citizens declare has been a disturbing element, were searched for arms and loaded in freight cars.

According to word from Bisbee the work of deportation was being done thoroughly and systematically.

Greatly outnumbered, members of the Industrial Workers, who had not left town, were herded in a baseball park. There a guard was maintained and as fast as the men were brought in they were searched for arms and red cards showing their membership in the Industrial Workers organization.

Nearly on a siding, were cattle and box cars where the men were taken. There other guards saw to it that the train remained.

This train, it was stated, will be sent out of town later. Leaders of the Citizens' Protective League refused to give its destination.

The work was begun at night, a number of citizens from Douglas and other points coming to assist.

Business men and miners who wanted to work had determined that the industry of the camp should no longer be tied up. Therefore, all business was suspended for today for the "clean-up." All shops were closed and no mining operations were attempted. Before night the Citizens' Protective League announced there would be nothing remaining in Bisbee with an I. W. W. mark upon it.

It was reported here the deported I. W. W. members would be forced to flee into Mexico, as California, Texas and New Mexico have put up the bars against them. The train, it is understood, will be routed from Bisbee direct to Tucson and will arrive here late this afternoon.

Sheriff Meyers and home guard and council of defense officials at once took steps to keep the I. W. W. members moving and it is reported they will be shipped over the Southern Pacific Mexico railroad to Nogales on the border where there is a detachment of United States troops.

Attorney General Whitney stated that he had been advised that two men had been killed at Bisbee, one was Deputy Sheriff McRae, and the other a striker.

Details are lacking but it is understood they killed each other.

BEMIDJI

Seat of Indian Council Which Grants Equal Suffrage to Tribal Women.

Bemidji, Minn., July 12.—After refusing chiefs of the tribe representation in their council on the ground that modern Indians are democrats and not monarchists, Minnesota Chippewa Indians in council here today gave the suffrage to women. The fight revolved about Cora Coffey, a stenographer, 23 years old, employed by the United States government at the Fond du Lac reservation, who is the solitary woman delegate. Older Indians objected to her being seated on the ground that the innovation was dangerous.

"Equal rights," however, were championed by the younger element who are in control. One of the interesting characters at the convention is Captain John Smith of Cass Lake, who is said to be 121 years old.

Mrs. T. E. Knauss and Mrs. Jess Hulse of Columbus, mother and sister of Dr. W. H. Knauss were his guests today enroute to their home in Columbus.

Mrs. W. C. Bateman of Marion is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burch of Elizabeth street.

FOOD CONTROL

LEGISLATION WHICH IS BEING REVISED MAY BE APPROVED TODAY.

Senate Leaders Appeal to President Wilson to Outline His Opinion on Compromises.

Washington, July 12.—Democratic leaders of the senate finding it well nigh impossible to reconcile conflicting views on the food control bill, decided today to appeal to President Wilson to outline his opinion of what compromises should be agreed upon to hasten action on the measure.

Revision of food-control legislation by the senate agricultural committee is nearing completion with the possibility of being given final approval today.

While the committee continued its work on Senator Gore's substitute for the administration's food bill, the Democratic steering committee conferred with a view to making sure that legislation finally is presented to the senate which will pass on July 21, the time fixed by agreement for a vote.

Only minor details today stood in the way of formal approval of the substitute bill, members of the agriculture committee stated. Most committee members, it was said, favor legislation along the lines of the substitute restricting the general scope of the legislation to food and fuels.

The committee today had voted to put into the substitute bill the same prohibition provisions already approved by the senate. These would prohibit manufacture or importation of distilled liquors and would also provide for government acquisition of all liquor now in bond at cost, plus 10 per cent.

The senate today continued preliminary debate on the administration bill.

If President Wilson does not object, the leaders were said to believe that the substitute bill drawn by Senator Gore generally embraces ideas for compromise legislation. The Gore bill would limit government control to food and fuel alone, eliminating steel, iron, copper, cotton and many other products.

The prohibition question, it was agreed, probably will have to be settled in conference without further senate action because of the unanimous consent agreement under which the senate acted last week.

These decisions were reached at conferences between Senator Martin, Democratic leader, Chairman Gore of the agriculture committee, Senator Chamberlain, who has charge of the legislation in the Senate, and Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, whose work on the war tax bill is suspended pending final action on prohibition.

Sensors Martin and Simmons then decided to ask the President's advice as to acceptance of a compromise along the general plan of the Gore substitute.

The senate agriculture committee decided today not to make any endorsement or recommendation regarding the Gore substitute bill. Senator Gore, however, plans to offer it as an original proposition, with the understanding that many of its provisions will have general support in favor of those in the pending bill.

WILL RECOMMEND SWEEPING CHANGES IN ELECTION LAWS

Columbus, O., July 12.—That sweeping changes would be recommended in Ohio's election laws was indicated by expressions of members of the legislative committee, appointed by the last general assembly to revise those laws, who came to Columbus today to hold their initial meeting. The biggest change to be recommended probably will be the adoption of the Massachusetts plan, under which party tickets are abolished and the names of all candidates are placed in the same column, instead of being under party designations.

Members of the committee are: Senators Mooney of Cleveland, Gilmore of Eaton, Shohl of Cincinnati, Representatives Braeh of Toledo, Freiner of Vinton, and Hunter of Columbus.

The committee's first work will be to write to election boards, chambers of commerce, civic bodies, county political chairmen and others interested in political science, requesting recommendations from them as to what changes should be made in the election laws. The committee is required to prepare its recommendations and file them with the governor before the first of next year.

WERE MARRIED IN PARKERSBURG, W. VA., SEVERAL WEEKS AGO

Announcement is made of the marriage of Mrs. R. L. Compton and Mr. William Hulshizer of this city, the wedding taking place, June 26, in Parkersburg, W. Va.

About a year ago, Mr. and Mrs. Hulshizer and Mr. and Mrs. Compton were on a motor trip and when near Columbus the machine went in a ditch, and Mrs. Hulshizer died shortly after the accident. Mr. Compton was also seriously injured and died in a few weeks.

The wedding of Mrs. Compton and Mr. Hulshizer was kept a secret, they continuing on their way to New York after the ceremony, spending an extended honeymoon touring the state. Mr. and Mrs. Hulshizer returned Tuesday and will be at home in East Church street.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Medicinal Value of Apples.
People ought to know that a good thing is to eat apples just before retiring for the night. Persons uninitiated in the mysteries of the fruit are liable to throw up their hands in horror at the visions of dyspepsia which such a suggestion may summon up, but no harm can come even to a delicate system by the eating of ripe and juicy apples before going to bed. The apple is excellent brain food, because it has more phosphoric acid in easily digested shape than any other fruit. It excites action of the liver, promotes sound and healthful sleep and thoroughly disinfects the mouth. This is not all. The apple prevents indigestion and throat diseases.

PROVE THAT THE GERMANS MISTREAT BELGIAN SUBJECTS

GERMAN STATESMAN MAY BE CHANCELLOR

Prince von Buelow.

Prince von Buelow, one of the shrewdest statesmen in all Germany, is once more being mentioned as the successor to von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German chancellor. It is rumored that von Buelow, who was ambassador to Italy at the outbreak of the war, will be recalled from Switzerland if Hollweg is ousted.

[Associated Press Correspondence]
Havre, June 20.—The Belgian government has received from various sources evidence which accords in every detail, proving that deported Belgian civilians are subjected systematically to mistreatment to bring them to forced labor for the Germany army.

This evidence exposes insufficient nourishment, cruel punishment, brutal intimidation and hard conditions of labor, under which a great many of the deported civilians succumb while a larger proportion return so reduced and weakened that they are incapable of physical effort.

This is the regime of the camp of Soltan described by one of the men who had been interned there and who succeeded in escaping.

"In the morning, a third of a litre of a beverage resembling coffee, but seemed to have been made of acorns, at noon a half-litre of soup generally made of beets, but sometimes of potatoes; in the evening, a fifth of a litre of porridge, made of cornmeal or barley; the ration of bread is about a half pound per day; it is made of a mixture of cornmeal and rye. The interned are never given meat, fish or cheese. In certain camps the evening meal was suppressed altogether and even the other meager repasts were deducted for those who refused to work for the Germans."

Besides hunger, the principal measures resorted to in order to bring the deported men to submission were the "suppliee of the post," stoutly fettered to posts, the men are exposed to heat or cold according to the season or days during which the food rations are reduced systematically until they reach the proportions of a half ration only for two days subsistence.

Another cruelty practiced upon the deported to force them to work is the "suppliee of the tank," or a severe application of the Turkish bath. Several witnesses have confirmed this fact, among them the son of a manufacturer of the region of Antwerp who, with several of his comrades in camp, was shut up in a small room heated to a very high temperature. There was only room in the place for them to stand erect, and so crowded they were scarcely able to turn. They were left there 24 hours. Then they were led to a factory in the neighborhood where they were asked if they would go to work. Upon their refusal, they were taken to a field under military escort, divested of their overcoats, shoes, scarfs and hats or caps, and exposed in a snowstorm an entire day and an entire night, with nothing to eat or drink and under the absolute prohibition to make the slightest movement. Some of them lost consciousness after a few hours of this exposure and all of them were taken to the hospital the following day.

The son of the manufacturer of Antwerp, a very stout, robust fellow at the time of the deportation, was sent home a physical wreck a short time afterwards. He has since died from the mistreatment. He made the recital of his sufferings to the doctor who treated him and the Belgian government as in possession of the evidence as given to the doctor. A number of witnesses called attention to the fact that frequently groups of deported men have been the subject of a simulated execution, sometimes by a firing squad, and sometimes by machine guns, in order to overcome their resistance and impress their comrades.

There is also another means of constraint used upon the deported in the form of punishment camps and where the deported are forced to work in the marshes, often in most excessive cold weather, dressed in nothing but trousers, shirts and wooden shoes, without food during an entire day.

Some of the deported are sent to agricultural centers where, according to the evidence of a man from Verviers, who, escaped from Germany, most of the victims return so enfeebled that it is necessary for them to be transported to the station in carts.

Corporal punishment, the form of which is left to the discretion of the jailors, is frequently employed, such as blows with the butt of a rifle, forced running for periods up to two hours without stopping under menace of the bayonet, in addition to the practice of tying men to the post.

From all the evidence, it appears certain that the mortality among men subjected to these different forms of mistreatment is alarming. The death of a great many of the deported men is known in the occupied regions of Belgium.

Evidence regarding the camp of Soltan shows that the men are badly lodged, underfed, particularly in the working detachments; ill clothed, brutalized, sequestered, deprived of all diversion and distraction and also refused any kind of spiritual consolation.

In four months after the creation of the camp in November, 1916, the deaths numbered 199. The causes were generally tuberculosis, pneumonia, heart weakness and analogous diseases. It had been necessary at that date to send back to Belgium between 5000 and 6000 of the interned for different infirmities. The deaths on February 24 were 13, on February 25, 14, on March 1 and 2, 17, not counting those that occurred in the working detachments. At that time there were between 3000 and 4000 men interned.

Two or three dead from pleurisy were found at that epoch every day among the deported in the sheds.

VALUABLE FARMS.
Farming life has made some wonderful strides in the past few years. Indeed, it is a surprise to many who have been located in the city for the past twenty years to find when they visit the farmer that he has all the comforts and pleasures of the city. He has his bath, automobile, and now he has electric lights. The last—electric lights—have been made possible through the Delco Lighting system. The farmer values this above all the other things he has because it is one of his greatest money-savers. It saves him many of the little chores that would require an extra hand and it is so easy to operate, besides it adds to the value of his property. Better see J. M. Thomas, 47 South Third street, Newark, about this system. 12-11

WEDDING RING
LOST 43 YEARS
IS RECOVERED

Hebron, O., July 12.—A wedding ring, lost 43 years ago in a field on the J. A. Cully farm near here was recovered yesterday when Prof. E. T. Robinson, superintendent of public schools, dug it up while working in his garden.

The ring was lost in 1874 by Mrs. Cully when she was walking through a field with her husband. Her hand came in contact with a thistle and she quickly withdrew it, losing the ring. Diligent search was made for it but it was never found.

Prof. Oshorn dug the ring up and upon cleaning it found the inscription "J. C., Sept. 25, 1873." He hunted up Mr. and Mrs. Cully and told them of his find, presenting them the ring which the latter had lost 43 years ago. Both were overjoyed to recover the gold band and it recalled joyous days of long ago.

CONFERENCES ON THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, July 12.—A conference on the high cost of living will be held in Washington, July 20 and 21 to discuss federal legislation to give the government control of natural resources and a proposed taxation system by which a high tax on unused lands would be used to pay the cost of the war. The conference is called by the committee on the high cost of living, an organization whose membership extends throughout the country.

LIQUOR CLAUSE GOES BACK INTO NEW FOOD BILL

Washington, July 12.—Considerable progress toward a compromise on food control legislation was made in the senate but several important features still are to be worked on and the whole outlook remains uncertain.

On the floor perfunctory debate continued on the administration bill which leaders virtually have agreed to abandon, but in the agriculture committee such headway was made with consideration of Senator Gore's substitute measure that members said final committee approval was withheld only because of minor details.

The committee, however, virtually washed its hands of the troublesome prohibition issue by voting to put into the substitute the same regulations which the senate already has approved. These would prohibit manufacture or importation of distilled liquors and would also provide government acquisition of all liquors now in bond at cost plus 10 per cent.

The latter provision embodied in the Smoot amendment has been under repeated attack both from "wets" and "drys" since its adoption. Whether the committee's action on that point would be satisfactory to the senate or will reopen the whole prohibition fight, is problematical. Some changes were made in the Smoot provision in order to meet criticism regarding its constitutionality and committee members, they hoped, would quiet its opponents.

Today the committee will meet again and may give formal approval to the measure and report it as a substitute for the administration bill. The Democratic steering committee also will hold a conference on the subject in an effort to make certain that legislation finally is put before the senate which will command a majority when a vote is taken under agreement on July 21.

Barbed Wire and the War.

The part that barbed wire has played in the war is reflected to some extent by the foreign commerce reports. This is particularly an American product, the Eliaden invention having been first utilized on a large scale by John W. Gates at St. Louis. The descriptions from the front show the effective use made of this simple invention, which the late Senator Ingalls said was suggested by the manner in which the milk cows avoided the bramble bushes. It was woven and twisted into a barrier that seemed impregnable until the

WHAT COLLEGE GIRLS DO

The Intercollegiate Bureau of Occupations, which finds positions for women college graduates, finds that a very large part of them have literary tastes strongly developed and want positions as editors. They desire such positions because they think they can make big money out of it.
They are not local editors on newspapers.
Probably their ambition runs more into the magazine and book publishing line.

It is a fine and honorable position for an educated woman to edit literary publications. Unfortunately it is a limited field. The Bureau of Occupations appears to be more sucgenerous treatment.

THE EMBARGO.

(Philadelphia Record.)

The embargo was rendered inevitable by the food shortage, and by the further fact that food and raw materials are being shipped to Germany from some neutral countries that have been free to import from us all they could pay for. We have got to make sure of our own food supplies; we have got to spare all that is possible for our allies, and we have got to cut off shipments into Germany.

The powers of the president are large, but in war authority has got to be centralized, so that decisions may be made promptly. If every step taken by the government has got to be preceded by six weeks or two months of debate in congress, in which each member will tell all that he knows that would interest Berlin, we could not hope to arrive anywhere. There isn't the slightest danger of the president's misuse of his powers. He could fly over the capitol as easily as he could convert himself into a Caesar. If he has ambitions they could only be satisfied by securing the plaudits of his countrymen.

No very great interference with our foreign trade is to be anticipated. It has been suggested that there would be an absolute embargo on foodstuffs till the harvests here and in allied countries have been gathered, and we know just where we stand. We doubt if even this step will be necessary, but if it should be taken, it would be a temporary stoppage, at a time when exports of breadstuffs would be naturally at their lowest, for our allies are least likely to import when they are gathering their own crops, or when their bins have just been filled.

As to other supplies, it is not probable that the government will do anything more than, in issuing a license for export, to take sufficient precautions that the commodities, or their equivalents, will not reach our enemies. Of most of these articles we have all the way from a reasonable to an ample supply. The object of an embargo on these is merely to prevent the export of articles to countries that are exporting them, or corresponding domestic products, to our enemies.
Sweden has long been doing a land-office business in importing from the United States and shipping goods into Germany. It has got to stop the latter or it cannot have our products.

Sweden and Holland and several other neutrals may suffer from this, but of course we must take care first of ourselves and our allies. Besides this, the small neutral nations concerned in the defeat of Germany than we are. If they wish more liberal terms from the United States, let them join the United States and fight for their own independence, which will certainly be lost if Germany shall win this war.

GERARD RETIRES.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

James W. Gerard resigns from the diplomatic service of the United States and returns to private life. The state department rightly ranks his services at the court of Berlin as among the most important ever rendered by an American diplomat, and the record of American diplomats from Franklin down is not one to be despised.

Mr. Gerard quit the bench to serve as ambassador to Germany, and hardly has he reached his post before his successes, socially and diplomatically, showed that the president's choice was justified. From the first he was persona grata to the German government and the German people, and until the close of his stay in Berlin he enjoyed in an unusual measure the confidence not only of his own government but of that to which he was accredited. He was active in such war relief work as his position permitted. He did much to further the work of the Red Cross and the relief of suffering in Poland. As representative of the Wilson administration, too, he was diligent, and long successful, in preventing that breach between the nations which appeared every month

more imminent.

When the break came, he upheld
the best traditions of the service by his determined stand for the rights of Americans in Germany and his insistence upon the privileges of his office. He thwarted von Jawow and Zimmermann in their insolent endeavor to alter long standing treaties and to gain advantage in the war they knew to be inevitable by the threat of holding Americans in Germany. He came home in triumph, deserving, as he had enjoyed, the complete confidence of the administration and of the people.

Mr. Gerard is out of the diplomatic service, perhaps for good. His record of accomplishment is one in which every American may well take pride.

Prophecy.

Albert Ballin, friend of the kaiser, predicted last winter that the war would end by July 1 with a victory for Germany. It was the kaiser who told his troops that they would be back in Berlin victorious before the leaves turned in 1914.
And it was an Englishman—Kitchener—who predicted that the war would last three years. No American prophecies are yet on record.—
Chicago Post.

Australian Wheat.

The Australian situation is tantalizing. A recent official report says 4,500,000 long tons of old wheat are in storage there. That is nearly 10,000,000 bushels—enough to provide bread for Great Britain for a year. But there it lies, in a country eager to send it to the motherland, because ships can not be had to bear it away. The need of ships is therefore even more urgent than the need of greater crops.
—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

Chances for Exemption.

The opportunity for exemption is not likely to be as broad as many anticipate. Fifty per cent of the applicants for enlistment are rejected for physical disability, and these are men who think themselves fit for a soldier's duty. If the physical requirements are as strictly enforced, more than 50 per cent of the registration may be discarded. Another 1,000,000 of aliens may be set aside. Other stated general exemptions may take another 1,000,000 out. It would not be surprising if 750,000 men would be filled from a list of not over 4,000, 000, or an average of one in five,
which ratio would be reduced in many communities. — Philadelphia

The Food Shark's Nerve.

It's mighty hard work for the citizen who gets out into the country these days and sees the thriving crops to figure out the limit of the nerve of the food sharks who talked about possible crop failures.—Marion Star.

Get Ready Now.

Lord Northcliffe is absolutely right when he says that in the near future some, perhaps many, of our American soldiers must be prisoners

NEED OF MEN IN TRAINING CAMPS

When war was declared the Nation's two most important immediate necessities were to raise an army and to create executive and administrative bodies of maximum efficiency to aid the government in carrying on the war.

All America's greatest figures in finance, commerce and industry immediately volunteered their services to the government and many of them are now accomplishing the wonderful results we have seen in the three months since war was declared. The rank and file of the army has been enormously increased by volunteers and will shortly receive hundreds of thousands of the Nation's best young manhood through the selective draft and there are now in training or already commissioned all the young officers we shall need for the lower grades.

Everywhere, with one exception, we are seeing evidences of America's wonderful adaptability, efficiency and patriotism in the Nation's great emergency. The one exception is most vital and fundamental. We are woefully deficient in officer material of proper age, education, experience and business judgment for the higher grades.

The government has decreed that all the manhood of the country between the ages of 21 and 31 shall be subject to selective draft, and the older men are needed to lead them;
men between 21 and 44, who have made good by education, brains and energy are urged to apply before July 15th for admission into the Second Officers' Training Camp.

More battles and lives are lost by the mistakes and inefficiencies of higher officers than from any other cause. Errors by their officers lost the Marne and the Channel Ports for Germany; by our selections of officers we should keep our error columns as nearly blank as is humanly possible. Remember also that when our boys go to France the German Officers opposed to them will be the very best that Germany could get from just such business and professional men as the government is now seeking.

Military experience is not necessary for admission to these camps.
As a matter of fact the country is now stripped of its men of military experience—40,000 of them went to the first Officers' Training Camp—other thousands are in the National Guard and the Regular Army. It is civilians who are called upon now and they must respond before the 15th of this month and go into training to acquire the military experience.

It is time now for them to make their decision and to make sacrifices that their country has a right to demand of them. The decision must be made immediately. Application blanks may be had at First National Bank, as July 15th is the last date on which these applications will be received. As stated in yesterday's Advocate Mr. E. C.
Wright has already given application blanks to at least 40 Newark men, others are expected to file applications.

While applications will be received from persons between 20 years and 9 months and 41 years of age and from men with certain military experience up to 50 years of age, preference will be given to men over 31, other things being equal.

Major General T. H. Barry of the United States Army in a letter just received in Newark said:

"Our country is a conspicuous example of force, progress and prosperity in all fields of human endeavor.
This results from the liberty of thought and action which we all enjoy."

"The Constitutional guarantees that have made this possible are now in danger. If these guarantees live, it will only be through America's men who bring to our military establishments the same thought, energy and leadership that have made their peaceful pursuits successful.
Those who are achieving success in peaceful pursuits do so because they have within them that native ability which would make them equally successful in military life."

"Successful men must now give their knowledge and energy to the organization and direction of military force. For successful military leadership they should be especially trained in the Officers' Training Camps."

"Millions of young men will soon be called to arms. They have a right to be led and directed by the best men of the country, and an appeal is made to men of this type to come forward and enter themselves for the Officers' Training Camps before July 15th—the last date for filing applications."

declares, there is no disgrace about being taken prisoner. But the warning that the American government and the Red Cross should organize at once for the systematic feeding of such prisoners is timely.—Brooklyn

Germany.

We shall not believe in a revolution in Germany till we see it, but it is quite clear that within the realm all is not as the divine-righters would have it.—Columbus Dispatch.

Time for Discipline.

Uncle Sam is long suffering and kind. He has been badly treated by the alien enemy and has stood for much from many of his native, but unnatural sons. It's time for discipling some of the recalcitrant ones of the latter class while he is getting ready to apply the big stick to Prussian war lordism.—Mansfield News.

The Oldest Flags.

It is well to be enthusiastic about one's country's flag, but it is also well to be careful that no extravagant claims are made with regard to it. It has often been said in the United States, of late, that the Stars and Stripes is the oldest national flag now in existence. There are at least two that are older, both Scandinavian, the "Dannebrog," Denmark's national emblem, which antedates the flag of the United States by more than 200 years. The Swedish flag, however, was altered slightly during the union with Norway, 1814, although since the dissolution of that union it has been returned to its original form.—Christian Science Monitor.

Some Should be Pensioned.
According to accepted authorities
there are only nine original jokes
in all the world; and even at that,
as we flounder about sometimes trying to land on some miserable variant of one of them, we suspect,
in our bitterness, that the statement of their number is grossly exaggerated.—R. C. W. in Columbia Record.

This statement has been over-simplified, as we have it from a trustworthy source that the total number of jokes in the world is eight and no-100 and we have our moments of depression when we feel that this is an optimistic estimate and that there are really about eight less than this number.

Did You Know
That Henry David Thoreau was born July 12, 1817, at Concord, Massachusetts? After graduation at Harvard in 1837, he taught school and lectured, but to add to his sien-der income, did unusual work for a Harvard graduate, such as odd jobs at carpentry and surveying. He also helped his father make pencils.

Whatever he did he did well. Like many of the transcendentalists, he determined to divest himself of as many of the burdens of civilization
as possible, to lead the simple life and to waste the least time possible in the mere making of money. For more than two years he lived alone in the forest on a piece of Emerson's property beside Walden Pond
about one mile south of Concord.
He wrote "Walden," and "A Week on the Concord and Merrimack Rivers." He died in 1862.

Hurry Back F. G. I.
"Cap'n, Willie, I salute you,
So pray just keep on livin';
For every harsh or unkind word
Most freely is forgiven.
Don't think that I'm desertin'-
If for a time I go away,
I hope to meet and greet again
My old friends some day." F. G. I.

Why?
Sometimes I wonder why it must be so That Nature's hand which not so long ago
Called to the light the heart of every seed
Now burns the life it nurtured fallen
Upon the parched earth. Oh, I can read
In every withered flower of painful thirst
In every shrunken leaf of piteous need
Why brought to life, called softly gently first
To be in life thus prematurely cursed?
Why ask? Are human hearts not often wrong
When among us full of life and
Is taken off? Do we not question then?
Is not destined that a mortal tongue
Shall justify the "words of God" to men.
F. G. I.

Pardon Me, Please Do.
You are right oh gentle Captain
In that great discovery.
About the noble Major being
General I am not sure.
That is just the thing we often
As officers are forced to do,
In receiving packs of candy
From kindly kids like you!

And right now you'd be a dead one
If it hadn't been for me.
Cause I and the court be lenient
Which fact all can plainly see.
And the army knows you'd never
last a day in the war, eh, wot?
If it wasn't for the sentence
Which keeps you about half shot.

Big in Bill and so the limit.
Boil up in your loudest duds,
Mix in only with the eager
Of the young set of blonds,
Squander money by the barrel,
Not in buying beans or goods,
But invest in home classes
Of the amber-skinning sort.

But of one thing I would warn you
And that I long have warned,
Be not ever lashed or lamely
Any to a lemonade!
It will put you on the hammer,
For you're being sold at auction,
And you see all kinds of monsters,
Even green-eyed monsters!

Oh I never for a moment
Would have thought you little scound,
Could have raised the Joe and pleasure
That we have around our lounge.
All I do is hear with laughter
Till the frightened kid yell "Paw"
What's the matter, and I better
"Nobin' much, I'm, how, how?"

Last Veteran to See 1915.
Somewhere in the United States
there is a veteran of the civil war who is destined to be the last survivor of all the millions of men who fought for the preservation of the Union. This man when he dies will be at least 105 years of age. On the basis of life insurance data, government authorities estimate that 23 years from now, in 1940, there will be about 340 civil war veterans surviving. All of them will be gone by 1945, but the last old soldier may linger almost until then.—Milwaukee

Arbaugh-Turnbull.

The marriage of Miss Anna Turnbull of Crooksville, and Norris Arbaugh of Newark, was solemnized at the home of the bride, Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock. The marriage service was read by Rev. Mr. Smith of Newark, and following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Turnbull of Crooksville, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Arbaugh, North Pine street. He is an employee of the Ohio Electric Railway company. Mr. and Mrs. Arbaugh will be at home in Newark.

The Sesame club was entertained by Mrs. Sam Gallagher Wednesday afternoon at her home in Hudson avenue. Interesting contests were held, the trophy winners being Mrs. J. F. Frenier and Miss Virginia Weaver. Refreshments were served the members and four guests, Mrs. Sam Harding, Mrs. Raymond Stroff, Misses Virginia Weaver and Frances Wimbear. The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. Glen Garlinghouse, No. 91 North street, July 25.

Calley-Sorensen.

On Monday afternoon at four o'clock Miss Anne J. Sorensen and Mr. Donald M. Calley were married at the home of Mrs. Ross Smith, Dr. C. H. Stull of the First Baptist church performed the ceremony.

The bride is well known to Newark and Granville people through her connection with Denison University where she was a student and for two years a member of the college faculty. Since that time she has been Professor of History and Political Science in Central College, Pella, Iowa, having been for six years at the head of her department. Mr. Calley is sailing for France the twentieth of July to serve as an ambulance driver under the French government. He is a member of the American Field Service which has been furnishing most of the ambulance men for the western front.

Mr. and Mrs. Calley will leave for New York City the last of the week.

Howell-Trost.

Wednesday evening Dr. L. C. Sparks joined in marriage Mr. Fred

T. Howell and Evelyn Blanch Trost. The wedding took place at the home of Mr. Sparks on North Fifth street and the young couple were unattended. They are residents of Newark and will continue to live here.

The Sick

Mrs. Frank Krumdlauff of Circleville, residing at 58 West Church street, was suddenly taken ill this morning and was removed to the City Hospital in the Bradley ambulance.

Mrs. Charles Barr of 91 South Second street, was taken from her home to the City Hospital in the Bradley ambulance.

Earl H. McKibbin.
Earl H. McKibbin died in St. Vincent hospital, Toledo, O., July 11, at the age of 38 years. He was married to Miss Bertha Luckner, daughter of H. R. and Emma Luckner, September 15, 1908. To this union three children were born: Dorothy, aged 8 years; Esther, aged 4 years, and Helen, aged 2 years. He also leaves a son Joseph, 14 years of age, by a former marriage; mother, two brothers and one sister. He had been chief clerk for the Central Union Telephone company of Toledo for eight years, and was one of their most valued employees. His body will be brought to the home of his father-in-law, H. R. Luckner, 582 Prior avenue, from which place the funeral will be conducted Friday at 1:30 o'clock, by Rev. P. O. Orr. Burial in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Funeral of Ambrose Schaller.
The funeral of Ambrose Schaller, who died suddenly at his home in West Church street, Monday, was held at St. Francis de Sales church on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. Interment was made in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

Fluent Women Novelists.
Several women novelists beat the men as public speakers. Mrs. Bailey Reynolds is a beautiful speaker; Mrs. Humphry Ward is equally fine; Lucas Malet says just what she desires to say, and Sarah Grand might get a seat in the cabinet if she were a man, says the London Answers.

Personal

Mr. and Mrs. George Pickup have returned from a visit at Atlantic City.

Mrs. Nana Thyhurst Huggins was recently granted a divorce from her husband, Harry C. Huggins, at Oatman, Arizona. The husband is in Portland, Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. Huggins were married at Newark, O., October 8, 1908.

Dispelling an Illusion.

When you think you can see a ghost, how can you tell whether it really is a ghost or not? A writer gives the following scientific method: "We assume that a person sees an apparition. It may be objective—i. e., having existence outside the observer's mind—or merely a creature of a disordered brain, subjective. The seer, while looking at the vision with both his eyes, gently depresses one eyeball with his forefinger from outside the top eyelid, so causing a squint. If objective, whether bogus or not, two outlines of the 'ghost' will be seen, but one, of course, if it be subjective. One may prove this by trial any time with any object, near or far. I mention this because of the many nervous and brain-wearied people who see spooks and to whom it would be better that they should know that the trouble is within themselves and so seek a capable doctor than continue to be haunted, as they believe, by the supernatural."

GIRLS, WIN A PRIZE TRIP TO WASHINGTON!

AMONG the 500 prize trips offered members of the Boys' and Girls' Clubs and Contests conducted by the Ohio State University College of Agriculture, over 200 trips will be offered to the girls. These are the contests which were transferred from the State Board of Agriculture on March 6. They will be carried on in counties having no regularly organized club work. Special interest is developing concerning the trips on account of the attention the girls are giving to food conservation. Special addresses will be given at Washington to the winners by President Wilson and Herbert Hoover, national food dictator.

Arrangements have been made to tour Washington and its vicinity, including historic Mount Vernon. A chance will be afforded to see congress in session. A corps of specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture, who are all well acquainted with the capital, have offered their services as guides.

Visit New York City.

Following the sojourn at the national capital, the trip will be extended to New York City. A boat ride will be taken up the Hudson as far as Grant's tomb, in Central park. A visit will be made to the American Museum of Natural History, to the heart of the business section and to the harbor.

It is planned that each person who goes on the trip will be presented with a guide book, specially prepared for the trip. This will furnish explanatory information concerning each point visited and offer an excellent souvenir of the trip.

Girls to Be Chaperoned.

All the girls will be divided into small groups and will be chaperoned by representatives of the College of Agriculture from the time they arrive at Columbus or Pittsburgh until their return. Their parents, however, are invited to accompany them, and may avail themselves of all the courtesies extended to the prize winners.

It is not too late to join the contest, although enrollment should be made at once to make the best use of the instructional material prepared by the specialists of the College of Agriculture.

Help For Contestants.

Any girl in the state between the ages of 10 and 18 years inclusive may enter. Specialists of the College of Agriculture are aiding contestants by giving demonstrations in each county and sending literature and personal letters in answer to questions. Each contestant will exhibit at the county fair, unless otherwise specified, the following things: A loaf of white bread; a pint can each of tomatoes; beans; corn; cherries or plums; pears or peaches; blackberries, raspberries or grapes; two small glasses of jelly; and a small glass of strawberry preserves or rhubarb conserve.

Anyone desiring further information concerning these and the other prize trips which will be offered at the same time to members of clubs conducted by the College of Agriculture should write to W. H. Palmer, State Leader of Boys' and Girls' Clubs, Ohio State University, Columbus, O.

HOME-GROUND WHEAT BREAD.

If clean wheat is available, says the United States Department of Agriculture, it may be ground at home in a coffee mill and the following economical and nutritious bread made:

Over a mixture of 1 tablespoonful sugar and 1 1-4 teaspoonfuls salt in a mixing bowl pour 1 1-4 cups of hot water, or skimmed milk. When the liquid had become lukewarm add 1-2 cake of dry yeast or 1 gill liquid yeast and 1-2 cups of home-ground wheat flour. Set over night to rise. In the morning add 1-2 cups of flour, beat well, put into greased pan, allow to rise until the bulk is doubled, and bake.

Milady's Boudoir

The Art of Resting.

Even weak women who are not robust enough to take the daily bath will find an alcohol sponge bath strengthening and helpful. Taken just before the daily nap, it tends to give light and refreshing slumber. If one cannot take it at midday, to take it at night before retiring will cause one to sleep well, even if the bed room is not any too cool.

To take down and brush the hair lightly, to rub the tired feet lightly with a little alcohol and water or diluted lemon juice, afterward wiping this off and applying powder, these things will also make the nap more comfortable. But more important is the habit of being able to let go of all of the work and worries of the day, when one would sleep.

Physical relaxation is taught by many nowadays, but mental relaxation is not often heard of. So I counsel my readers who find it hard to sleep when they wish to, and especially in the day time, to learn how to shut out of mind, as by a door, all the puzzling fretting, worrying thoughts, the burdensome, grinding work thoughts, and retain only in the consciousness the thought of peace and rest.

Let the mind fill itself with images of something pleasant, whether it is some of childhood's recollections, of a flower, or a bird, or a pleasant scene of a memory of trickling water or flowering tree or herb. Think and dwell upon this pleasant, restful image and watch carefully that this work thought does not slip back once more into the foreground. If the mind is taught how to relax and to let go in this way sleep may be successfully won by all, even as Madame Bernhardt does it. If only another aid to the mind's rest, is the rather small thin hair pillow to use as a substitute for the feather cushion. The head should never be too high, that is, of the normal and healthy woman. To stretch out flat upon the back is sound by many to be soothing and helpful. Many like to lie upon the floor in summer finding there some little draught of air.

Our Boys and Girls

The average boy stops growing between the ages of 18 and 20, though some reach their full height earlier than this. A few continue to grow after 20, are twenty. It is not natural for everyone to be tall. If anything, it makes you grow more rapidly, plenty of out-door exercise of a kind that is not too vigorous, rest and simple nourishing food will help to add to your height.

You can practice this exercise in your room every morning. It is especially recommended for those who wish to become taller, and it is said that at the end of the year there will be a noticeable difference in the height of one who practices it regularly.

Stand with the feet close together and raise the arms high above the head stretching the tips of the fingers as far toward the ceiling as possible; then bring the arms forward and downward without bending the knees, and try to touch them to the floor. You probably will not be able to do this the first time, but with a little practice you will succeed. Repeat the exercise six times at first, increasing the number of times as you become accustomed to it.

Every Day Etiquette

"I am going to give a little informal dinner to a few friends. Will you please tell me whether the glasses on the dinner table should be placed with the stems up, until the guests are seated?" asked Aunt Grace.

"No, it is correct to have the glasses on the table, stems up. They should be in readiness for serving," replied her sister.

Walnuts as Food.

The ancients held the walnut in high esteem. Morals could and did exist on acorns, but walnuts were so delicious in taste and flavor, so palatable and nutritious, that they were revered as food only for the gods to dine upon. Modern investigation and modern experiments have popularized the use of the walnut to such an extent that it is now regarded not only as a luxury, but as a food of great nutritive value. A chemical analysis of the nut shows that it is six times as nutritious as meat. No vegetable or fruit, with the possible exception of the olive, can be compared with the walnut as a strength giving and fat producing food. All nuts are possessed of elements of nutrition, but the highest in rank is the walnut.—Manchester Guardian.

Wallons and Flemings.

The term "Wallons" is used to designate those Belgians who speak French or a French dialect, while the Flemings are those who speak Dutch or a Dutch dialect.

Modesty is one of the sweetest and most desirable qualities one can possess, and yet too much modesty hinders advancement. When this quality is overdeveloped it antagonizes aggressiveness, without which no great success can be attained.

Entered as second class matter March 10, 1882, at the postoffice at Newark, Ohio, under the Act of March 4, 1879.

It is predicted that Congress will be released on suspended sentence about August 15.

The high price of flour is a severe blow to the people who need sugar to make candy with.

From the size of the government borrowings the coming generation will feel no lack of interest in the war.

If the guests at summer hotels keep perfectly quiet, the college girl waiters may not discover how ignorant they are.

Being convinced that the United States Liberty bonds will go higher, many people feel under patriotic obligation to buy the next issue.

In spite of the confident and hopeful predictions of failure issued by the pessimists, the amateur gardeners seem to be getting quite substantial results.

When people light a match to see if there is a leak in the gasoline tank, the existence of the same is thoroughly demonstrated to the surviving bystanders.

The automobile owning farmers of the despoised country still raise some hay to feed the horses owned by the struggling little businesses of the proud metropolitan city.

Many people are convinced that while they are away on their vacation their neighbors will esteem it a pleasure to come in three times a day and feed the dog and cat.

Although it is impossible for a motorcycle to knock a heavy automobile off the street, many motorists feel called upon in the interest of science to try the experiment.

The theory of some places on how to get their share of automobile business is to make the streets so poor that it will take the motorists all day to get through.

All the Boy Scouts have to do now is to take part in all parades, attend all flag raisings, distribute circulars of all patriotic meetings, keep the back yard gardens clear from weeds, learn the complete signal code, render first aid to all the injured, and do a good turn daily.

WHAT COLLEGE GIRLS DO
The Intercollegiate Bureau of Occupations, which finds positions for women college graduates, finds that a very large part of them have literary tastes strongly developed and want positions as editors. This does not probably mean that they desire any such humdrum work as that of news or local editors on newspapers. Probably their ambition runs more into the magazine and book publishing line.

It is a fine and honorable position for an educated woman to edit literary publications. Unfortunately it is a limited field. The Bureau of Occupations appears to be more successful in finding positions for women as secretaries, and in chemical, biological and industrial lines.

It is always a pity when a young person makes a mistake in the choice of a career at the outset, and finds that she has set her heart on some impossible dream. For that reason too many young people should not be encouraged to seek literary success. It is a terribly crowded field, and only the headliners get generous treatment.

If young women simply must write, the best thing for them is to go direct into newspaper work, no

THE EMBARGO.
(Philadelphia Record.)
The embargo was rendered inevitable by the food shortage, and by the further fact that food and raw materials are being shipped to Germany from some neutral countries that have been free to import from us all they could pay for. We have got to make sure of our own food supplies; we have got to spare all that is possible for our allies, and we have got to cut off shipments into Germany.

The powers of the president are large, but in war authority has got to be centralized, so that decisions may be made promptly. If every step taken by the government has got to be preceded by six weeks or two months of debate in congress, in which each member will tell all that he knows that would interest Berlin, we could not hope to arrive anywhere. There isn't the slightest danger of the president's misuse of his powers. He could fly over the capital as easily as he could convert himself into a Caesar. If he has ambitions they could only be satisfied by securing the plaudits of his countrymen.

No very great interference with our foreign trade is to be anticipated. It has been suggested that there would be an absolute embargo on foodstuffs till the harvests here and in allied countries have been gathered, and we know just where we stand. We doubt if even this step will be necessary, but if it should be taken, it would be a temporary stoppage, at a time when exports of breadstuffs would be naturally at their lowest, for our allies are least likely to import when they are gathering their own crops, or when their bins have just been filled.

As to other supplies, it is not probable that the government will do anything more than, in issuing a license for export, to take sufficient precautions that the commodities, or their equivalents, will not reach our enemies. Of most of these articles we have all the way from a reasonable to an ample supply. The object of an embargo on these is merely to prevent the export of articles to countries that are exporting them or corresponding domestic products, to our enemies. Sweden has long been doing a land-office business in importing from the United States and shipping goods into Germany. It has got to stop the latter or it cannot have our products.

Sweden and Holland and several other neutrals may suffer from this, but of course we must take care first of ourselves and our allies. Besides this, the small neutral nations around Germany are more vitally concerned in the defeat of Germany than we are. If they wish more liberal terms from the United States, let them join the United States and fight for their own independence, which will certainly be lost if Germany shall win this war.

GERARD RETIRES.
(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
James W. Gerard resigns from the diplomatic service of the United States and returns to private life. The state department rightly ranks his services at the court of Berlin as among the most important ever rendered by an American diplomat, and the record of American diplomats from Franklin down is not one to be despised.

Mr. Gerard quit the bench to serve as ambassador to Germany, and hardly had he reached his post before his successes, socially and diplomatically, showed that the president's choice was justified. From

Spirit of the Press
Prophecy.
Albert Ballin, friend of the Kaiser, predicted last winter that the war would end by July 1 with a victory for Germany. It was the Kaiser who told his troops that they would be back in Berlin victorious before the leaves turned in 1914. And it was an Englishman—Kitchener—who predicted that the war would last three years. No American prophecies are yet on record.—Chicago Post.

Australian Wheat.
The Australian situation is tantalizing. A recent official report says 4,500,000 long tons of old wheat are in storage there. That is nearly 10,000,000 bushels—enough to provide bread for Great Britain for a year. But there it lies, in a country eager to send it to the motherland, because ships can not be had to bear it away. The need of ships is therefore even more urgent than the need of greater crops.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

Chances for Exemption.
The opportunity for exemption is not likely to be as broad as many anticipate. Fifty per cent of the applicants for enlistment are rejected for physical disability, and these are men who think themselves fit for a soldier's duty. If the physical requirements are as strictly enforced, more than 50 per cent of the registration may be discarded. Another 1,000,000 of all men may be set aside. Other stated general exemptions may take another 1,000,000 out. It would not be surprising if 750,000 men would be filled from a list of not over 4,000,000, or an average of one in five, which ratio would be reduced in many communities.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The Food Shark's Nerve.
It's mighty hard work for the citizen who gets out into the country these days and sees the thriving crops to figure out the limit of the nerve of the food sharks who talked about possible crop failures.—Marion Star.

Get Ready Now.
Lord Northcliffe is absolutely right when he says that in the near future some, perhaps many, of our American soldiers must be prisoners in the hands of the Germans. As he declares, there is no disgrace about being taken prisoner. But the warning that the American government and the Red Cross should organize at once for the systematic feeding of such prisoners is timely.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Germany.
We shall not believe in a revolution in Germany till we see it, but it is quite clear that within the realm all is not as the divine rightists would have it.—Columbus Dispatch.

Time for Discipline.
Uncle Sam is long suffering and kind. He has been badly treated by the alien enemy and has stood for much from many of his native, but unnatural sons. It's time for disciplining some of the recalcitrant ones of the latter class while he is getting ready to apply the big stick to Prussian war lordism.—Mansfield News.

The Oldest Flags.
It is well to be enthusiastic about one's country's flag, but it is also well to be careful that no extravagant claims are made with regard to it. It has often been said in the United States, of late, that the Stars and Stripes is the oldest national flag now in existence. There are at least two that are older, both Scandinavian, the "Dannebrog," Denmark's national emblem, which antedates the flag of the United States by more than 200 years. The Swedish flag, however, was altered slightly during the union with Norway, 1814 to 1905, although since the dissolution of that union it has been returned to its original form.—Christian Science Monitor.

In view of the statement of Senator Hawick that he will support the president when the latter is right, it seems safe to assume that the president hasn't been right during the last few years.—Savannah News.

War metal is said to be getting mighty scarce in Germany, and it has been noticed that war metal is not so plentiful as it used to be, either.—Indianapolis News.

Governor Lowden of Illinois, says he knows of no race outrage in the south which equals that of East St. Louis. Is this a boast or a confession?—Kansas City Journal.

To those who feel so bad at the prospect of making the German spies face the firing squad, how much humanitarianism do the same spies feel in trying to furnish information that would sink one or more army transports?—Washington Herald.

The distinction between soft coal and hard coal is this: Soft coal is hard to get, but hard coal is harder.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The trouble with East St. Louis as well as some other communities is that the bad citizens are actively bad and the good ones passively good.—Chicago Herald.

THE ADVOCATE'S UNWELLING NOTE

According to accepted authorities there are only nine original jokes in all the world; and even at that, as we flounder about sometimes trying to land on some miserable variant of one of them, we suspect, in our bitterness, that the statement of their number is grossly exaggerated.—R. C. W. in Columbia Record.

This statement has been oversubscribed, as we have it from a trustworthy source that the total number of jokes in the world is eight and no-100 and we have our moments of depression when we feel that this is an optimistic estimate and that there are really about eight less than this number.

Did You Know
That Henry David Thoreau was born July 12, 1817, at Concord, Massachusetts? After graduation at Harvard in 1837, he taught school and lectured, but to add to his slender income, did unusual work for a Harvard graduate, such as odd jobs at carpentry and surveying. He also helped his father make pencils. Whatever he did he did well. Like many of the transcendentalists, he determined to divest himself of as many of the burdens of civilization as possible, to lead the simple life and to waste the least time possible in the mere making of money. For more than two years he lived alone in the forest on a piece of Emerson's property beside Walden Pond about one mile south of Concord. He wrote "Walden" and "A Week on the Concord and Merrimack Rivers." He died in 1862.

Why?
Sometimes I wonder why it must be so that Nature's head which not so long ago
Called to the light the heart of every seed
Now burns the life it nurtured fallen
Upon the parched earth. Oh, I can read
In every withered flower of painful thirst
In every shrunken leaf of piteous need
Why brought to life, called softly gent
To be in life thus prematurely cursed?
Why ask? Are human hearts not often wrong
In every among us full of life and young
Is taken off? Do we not question then?
It is not destined that a mortal tongue
Shall justify the "ways of God?" F. G. I.

Parson Me, Please Do.
You are rich and noble Captain
In that great discovery.
About the noble Major being General Believer in the Lord.
As officers are forced to do,
In receiving packs of candy
From unruly kids like you!

And right now you'd be a dead one
If it hadn't been for me.
Cause I made the court be lenient
Which fact all can plainly see.
And the army knows you'd never Dare to talk that way, eh, well?
Not in having beans or candy
Which keeps you about half shot.

Dig in! Dig in! and see the limit
That we in your forest find.
Mix in only with the ghosts
Of the younger set of legends.
Squander money by the barrel,
Not in having beans or candy!
But invest in foamy classes
Of the amber sizzling side.

But of one thing I would warn you
Over this I long have prayed,
Do not ever taste or handle
Any of a lemonade!

It will not get on the hammer,
Fill your belly full of hate,
Make you see all kinds of monsters,
Even green-eyed boy's mate!

Oh I never for a moment
Would have thought you little crew,
Could have a good time by and pleasure
That we have around our house.
All I do is care with laughter
Till the frightened kids yell, "Paw!"
What's the matter? and I hear
"Nothin' much, how, how, how, haw!"

Last Veteran to See 1915.
Somewhere in the United States there is a veteran of the civil war who is destined to be the last survivor of all the millions of men who fought for the preservation of the Union. This man when he dies will be at least 105 years of age. On the basis of life insurance data, government authorities estimate that 23 years from now, in 1940, there will be about 340 civil war veterans surviving. All of them will be gone by 1945, but the last old soldier may linger almost until then.—Milwaukee Journal.

PRESIDENT PROMISES THAT FAIR PRICES WILL BE ALLOWED

But Warning Is Given That Attempts to Extort Unjust Profits Will Not Be Tolerated.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, July 12.—American business interests today had assurances from President Wilson that they will be paid fair prices during the war coupled, however, with a warning that attempts to extort unjust profits will not be tolerated.

In an appeal, addressed to the country's coal operators and manufacturers, the president urged that every selfish consideration be abandoned in this time of national peril. "Patriotism," said the president, "has nothing to do with profits in a case like this. Your patriotism is of the same self-denying stuff as the patriotism of the men dead and maimed on the fields of France, or it is no patriotism at all. I shall expect every man who is not a slacker to be at my side throughout this great enterprise. In it no man can win honor who thinks of himself."

The president expresses confidence that business generally will be found intensely loyal and the problem of war-time prices will be solved through patriotic co-operation. There must be but one price for the government and the public, he emphasizes. The appeal deals generally with the determination of war prices on all commodities.

The president vigorously condemns ship-owners of the country for maintaining a schedule of excessive ocean freight rates which has placed "almost insuperable obstacles" in the government's path.

"The fact is," he said, "that those who have fixed war freight rates have taken the most effective means in their power to defeat the armies engaged against Germany."

POPULATION ESTIMATES OF WAR DEPARTMENT CAUSED BY WAR INDUSTRIES.

That Is Explanation Given by Officials. But How About Akron's 338,343, Outstanding
Columbus.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, July 12.—War industries which have drawn large temporary populations of workers to some sections, were today considered responsible for swollen population estimates accredited to many American cities by the war department in its work of basing apportionments for drafting the new national army.

For the purpose of the apportionment only new population figures have been devised for each state, county and city, based on war registration in those subdivisions, and the allotment will be approximately two-thirds of 1 per cent of the revised population.

Delay of many district exemption boards in organizing and assigning serial numbers to the registrants, caused war department officials today to almost abandon hope of making the first drawing this week. Duplicate lists of all registrants and their numbers must be in possession of the department before the drawing is made.

PURITY

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith have returned from West Virginia where they were visiting the latter's sister. Mrs. Paul Lewis and other friends. They were accompanied home by Mr. Smith's cousin, Miss Letha Smith, who was their guest until last Saturday when she went to visit friends in Newark.

Forrest Layman of near Alexandria, spent last week with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Wilkin, moved last week to their new home near Jockburg.

Miss Elsie Taylor has gone to Kent to attend the summer school there, her aunt, Mrs. S. T. Harris, went with her to Akron, where both visited over Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor.

Messrs. and Mesdames Stephen, John, and Guy Harris spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hunt at St. Louisville.

Mr. H. M. Elliott was quite ill with congestion of the lungs, last week, but is able to be about again.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Elliott and Harold Abel were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ward in Mt. Vernon, Sunday, where a bountiful dinner was served in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Ward which came on that day, and of Mrs. Elliott whose birthday occurred on Friday. Other guests were present during the afternoon. The husbands came across with beautiful presents for the honor guests.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jones attended the funeral of Mrs. John Frost at Fallsburg, Tuesday morning.

Miss Arlie Reynolds has returned home from Westerville, where she was a guest of Mrs. Guy Check.

Miss Marie Colville is spending part of the week at the home of her grandfather, Mr. H. M. Elliott.

Cedar Point, July 12.—The Ohio State Bar Association elected John A. Shauk, of Columbus, former judge of the Ohio Supreme Court, president last evening, and re-elected Secretary Charles H. Blanchard, of Columbus, and Treasurer E. H. Gilmore, of Dayton.

You never can tell. Even the fellow who keeps late hours may come early to avoid the rush.

Health Expert Who Directed President

Taft's Daily Exercise to Speak Here

DR. CHARLES E. BARKER.

EVERY one is, of course, interested in learning how to live 100 years. A lecture on this subject is to be given at the Chautauqua by Dr. Charles E. Barker, who was physical adviser to President Taft during his administration at Washington.

At the afternoon session on the fourth day Dr. Barker will give his lecture "How to Be Always Happy." In the evening his subject will be "How to Live 100 Years." At this evening lecture Dr. Barker will give demonstrations of physical exercises which every one can practice at home. He will outline a plan of diet which should be followed by busy men and women.

It was Dr. Barker who, by his system of physical exercises and plan of diet, reduced President Taft's weight eighty-two pounds. The exercises which Dr. Barker will demonstrate, however, are not necessarily to reduce flesh, but are just as essential to the man or woman of average weight.

Aside from President Taft, many other prominent men in national life have followed Dr. Barker's plans for health. He stands in the forefront of teachers, orators and exemplars of the gospel of health and happiness. He has lectured widely under the auspices of the physical training department of the national committee of the Y. M. C. A., and his work has been widely commented upon both in the editorial and news columns of the largest city newspapers. One of the Springfield (Mass.) papers during a week's lecture engagement in that city published daily articles on health from Dr. Barker's pen.

When he appears here Dr. Barker will be glad to answer all questions along the lines in which he is specializing, so plan to make Chautauqua's "health day" a red letter event.

ANNUAL PICNIC OF "TRAVELERS" AT GRANVILLE.

(Special to The Advocate)

Granville, O., July 12.—Despite the unseasonable cold of the past few days, about 60 "Travelers" held their annual picnic Wednesday afternoon at the charming home of Mrs. George H. Reece on the Lancaster road, and enjoyed a few hours of social chat while engaged in knitting for the Red Cross. The entertainment committee, with Mrs. T. F. Chambers at its head, was responsible for one of the most appetizing of repasts, which was served in the house, cafeteria style, where two gleaming fires dispensed the cheer denied by nature. Among the most accepted invitations, were: C. B. Slack, C. D. Coons, Burton Case, S. E. Morrow, Rev. T. G. Fields, Charles Deeds, Prof. August Odobrecht, C. K. Pence, C. James, Harry Pierce and George Reece, host. Among out of town guests noted were Mrs. Fraker of Columbus; Mrs. Wm. Herrick and two daughters of New Mexico; Mrs. Raymond Pence of Crawfordsville, Ind.; Mrs. Harris Owen of Columbus.

The women of Granville and vicinity interested in suffrage should not fail to attend the meeting of the Licking County Equal Suffrage association to be held Friday afternoon, July 13 at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Emmet Baughman, No. 521 Hudson avenue, Newark. This village should support the president, Mrs. Clara V. Ogden, by sending a good delegation.

Mayor C. B. Coons has returned from a visit in Cleveland and of a few days' duration.

Mrs. A. K. Herrick has as house guests her sister-in-law, Mrs. Wm. Herrick, and two daughters of New Mexico, who find the weather in Ohio weather rather curious and not always comfortable.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morrow have been visiting at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Morrow.

Mrs. John Larimore is enjoying a visit from her two sons, Richard C. and Winfield K., and Mr. and Mrs. George Larimore, who made the trip from their home in Oklahoma in their automobile.

Miss Edith Perry is visiting the Perry and Larimore families for a day or two.

Mrs. Harry Oasen and son Junior of Columbus are visiting the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Pence on North street. Mrs. Hammond Deane, a two children of Crawfordville, Ind., are also spending the summer on the farm.

The neighborhood sewing bee to be given by Mrs. J. D. Thompson, at her home in Broadview, should read "on Friday, July 12."

Dr. W. A. Chamberlain has returned from a journey at Lake Chautauqua, N. Y.

Mrs. Clara M. Brumback will leave on Friday for Princeton, N. J., where she will attend a Bible conference.

Granville friends mourning on the shore of a lake "somewhere in Michigan" complain of the attacks from an air-fleet of unusually voracious mosquitoes. Better, perhaps, to "endure the ills we know than to fly to those we know not of" or words to that effect.

NEWARK ROUTE 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Layman and children Helen and Mary visited Sunday with Mrs. Layman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Evron Harris.

Miss Leila Kerr is spending some time with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Moore.

Mr. W. L. Fisk and mother and Walter Anderson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Miles at Newark. Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Porter and daughter, Lucile visited Mr. and Mrs. C. Christopher, Sunday.

Mr. Lee Kerr and family spent Sunday at the home of Allen Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hupp and little sons Kenneth and Johnnie and Miss Hazel Donaldson visited Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Sunday.

Mr. Walter Anderson of Cincinnati is spending some time with Mr. C. H. Fisk and family.

Mr. E. H. Stradley and family called on Mr. Frank Taylor and family Sunday evening.

Miss Ruth Porter is visiting her brother, Mr. Noble Porter and family.

Mrs. Anna Miller and granddaughter, Hazel Donaldson spent Friday night with her son John Miller and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Marian Livingston and little son Jesse spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Livingston.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Porter and son Guy and daughter Lucile and Mr. and Mrs. John Miller called on Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fisk, Saturday evening.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of St. John's Lutheran church, Franklin township, held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Chas. Tavenner. The opening services were in charge of Mrs. Carl Ritchey, Prayer by Mrs. H. L. Greenwalt. The lecture course in charge of Mrs. P. C. Osborn was as follows:

Reading, Mrs. Ed Cottierman; Mrs. James Taylor, Mrs. Aileen Swisher and Mrs. J. L. Watson.

Next meeting at the home of Mrs. Ed Bomer, Thursday, August 2.

BUES ON TRACTION CAR.

Friday, July 12.—William A. Bisher, 427 of Arlington, this county, died on a Toledo, Eastern and Indiana street car while on his way home from Eastern. Corner Rockman and heart trouble caused Bisher's death.

CLAIM PERFECTION RECORD.

Newport, Tenn., July 12.—What is believed to be a record for physical perfection has been established by Corporal A. Second, Tennessee Volunteer. Only six men out of the 119 examined were rejected.

Itching is unnecessary! Resinol stops it quickly!

It is a positive fact that the moment Resinol touches any itching skin, the itching usually stops and healing begins. Unless the trouble is due to some serious internal condition, it quickly clears away all trace of eczema, ringworm, pimples, or similar tormenting, unsightly eruption, leaving the skin clear and healthy. Doctors prescribe Resinol widely, so when you try it, you are using a remedy of proven value. Sold by all druggists.

Cocconut Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulified cocconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulified cocconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

You brush your teeth regularly—

—why, then, have you tooth troubles?

After brushing them tonight, feel along the hidden rear surfaces of your teeth. Don't be surprised to find tartar deposits and strands of food still lurking in the crevices.

Your dentifrice does not FULLY CLEAN!

SENRECO, "a dentist's formula," —fully cleans and also is particularly destructive to disease germs.

Tartar, as you know, is simply a nest of germ-infested matter. It is the favorite home of the germ which causes Pyorrhea. In this disease the gums get soft, sore and bleed readily. Later you may not only lose your teeth, but the infection can spread through the blood and cause serious bodily ailments.

Avoid Pyorrhea and decay. Get Senreco from your dealer today. In large tubes, 25c.

Send 4c. to Senreco, 204 Walnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio, for liberal sized trial package.

TREATMENT FOR YOUNG OFFENDERS

OHIO WILL SPEND $100,000 FOR A HOME FOR JUVENILE DELINQUENTS.

One of the World's Most Famous Experts Coming to State This Week for Conference.

Columbus, July 12.—The state of Ohio is preparing to take one of the most advanced steps in the matter of dealing with the proper disposition of juvenile delinquents of any state in the Union, and as far as known, of any country in the world.

To this end, the Ohio Board of Administration has, at the suggestion of Governor Cox, called to Columbus for a conference Dr. Henry H. Goddard of Vineland, N. J., the head of the juvenile research department in the state of New Jersey, a state that up to the present time has been further advanced than Ohio in this important work.

But under the plans adopted by the board of administration, and already approved by Governor Cox, and the action of the last legislature which made an appropriation of $100,000 for a new building, Ohio is going a step farther, and within a very short time will be so situated that no other state can compare with the attention and study that will be given its juvenile delinquents.

Research work in Ohio will be carried on by the very best men available in this country. This is the order direct from Governor Cox, who has made a study of the important question, and is satisfied that the solution of the great question of future criminals is in the proper treatment of the children.

And the governor is just as well satisfied that with proper precautions and treatment, the number of juvenile delinquents, who later become criminals, can be reduced to a minimum. This is the main object of the department. When a young boy or little girl violates some law they will not be committed to a penal or correctional institution, but the courts will send them to the department of juvenile research. After they arrive at this institution, each child will be studied carefully by men and women fully able to judge the responsibilities of the child. The unfortunate will not be sent to any of the industrial schools or to either of the penal institutions until these experts are convinced that servitude is the best treatment.

Not all children who commit some offense which would mean their confinement are physically or mentally responsible for the wrong. Some of them are, and it is neither right or proper that the mentally or physically deficient or those deficient in any way shall be confined with those with natural criminal tendencies, or those who have through the heat of anger or accidentally committed some offense.

The department of juvenile research will study each child. If children are found to be deficient from any cause whatever they will be given the very best treatment possible with a hope of restoring them to strong and normal young men and women and not be handicapped by the stigma of early imprisonment in some penal or correctional institution.

In spite of the mountain of work confronting Governor Cox in connection with the war, the investigation of labor and general conditions of the state, he has called members of the Ohio Board of Administration in conference several times within the past few weeks, with a result that there is a perfect agreement of what is to be done to carry out the plans. The first is the conference with Dr. Goddard who will reach Columbus Saturday. He will confer with the administration board members and Governor Cox, and later will look over several prospective sites, and finally confer with the architect who will draw the plans for the building which will be erected at the very earliest possible moment so that the work can be started.

After these details are agreed upon another conference will be held when one of the very best men in the United States will be secured to head the department. The location must be on state property for the board has no money with which to purchase land. The site will be in Columbus, and the building when completed will be so arranged that the boys and girls will be separated, and while under strict watch will not be guarded, but will be treated as children, not criminals. They will be entertained as an invalid rather than a delinquent, and the great state of Ohio will weed out the deficient from the sound, and will attempt to correct and cure, rather than punish the child from committing some crime for which it was not responsible.

She Is Brave Now.

In the Woman's Home Companion a writer says:

"Most people stand somewhat in awe of waiters, I find. They tip more than they can afford because they do not want to seem like a 'piker' in the waiter's eyes. Well, I am done worrying about what waiters are thinking about me. I make it a point now to let them worry about what I think about them. In the first joy of finding that I could get my rights by standing up for them I kicked to the captain of a dining car about the conduct of a waiter and later sent back some unripe fruit with perfect composure. The captain corrected the waiter. The unripe fruit was removed from my bill. It wasn't a bit of trouble. I didn't even raise my voice. But there was no mistake about what I meant."

"Since then waiters have had no terrors for me. When I don't get the treatment I ought to have I call the captain, or the head waiter, and ask what is the matter. He does the rest. And I tip regularly, but not lavishly."

President Fillmore.

Present day passion for setting unappreciated historical characters in a new light has now reached President Millard Fillmore. A symposium by sixteen American publishers says of him: He abolished debt imprisonment and religious test oaths for witnesses in court. He fostered new postage rates and induced congress to make an appropriation for testing the electric telegraph. He sent Perry on his famous expedition to Japan, with instructions for action that won the "open door" and laid the foundation for American-Japanese friendship. In his retirement as a citizen of Buffalo Fillmore laid the foundations of most of its present cultural institutions. Always he was an opponent of war and a constructive statesman. But he lacked those qualities as a man and those ambitions as a politician which might have made him popular while he lived and read about today.

Don't Neglect the Teeth.

The teeth are an important factor in maintaining health. Poor, irregular, decayed teeth cause foul breath and do not permit the thorough mastication of food. This creates intestinal disorders, caused by lumps of partly masticated food lying and fermenting in the stomach.

All food must be in a liquid state before it can pass into the intestinal tract, so if this task be continually imposed on the stomach it produces distress.

The mouth is indicative of character and as expressive as the eye. Refined and particular people do not neglect the appearance of the teeth.

A reasonable amount of care, a good dentifrice and a fairly stiff brush—all these give pearly teeth, a clean, sweet breath, ruby lips and a feeling of perfect cleanliness.

Floating Islands.

Many floating islands have at various periods been found voyaging on the Atlantic. These islands were originally part of the low lying river banks, which broke away under stress of storm or flood and floated out to sea. The Orinoco, the Amazon, the La Plata and other tropical rivers often send forth such pieces of their shores. Some of the bits of land are of large size and carry animals, insects and vegetation, even at times including trees, the roots of which serve to hold the land intact, while their branches and leaves serve as sails for the wind. Generally the waves break up these islands shortly after they put to sea, but sometimes, under favorable conditions, they travel long distances.

How Friends Are Made.

Two women with babies in their arms sat beside each other in a trolley car.

First one baby mumbled something, then the other until they became real friendly. Then one mother told the other how cute the babies got along together.

Before the car had reached the destination of the first woman each had invited the other to call.—Newark Eagle.

A Caution.

Reginald—I love you, Madeline. For you I would give up family, position, wealth. Madeline—Hold, Reginald! Giving up family is all right. I fain would be spared a mother-in-law. Give up your position if you can get a better one, but please hold on to your wealth. We may need it.

Helpful Shortcomings.

"Your husband is quite a trial."
"Yes, but his shortcomings are useful in a way. After viewing him at close range our cook says she would never risk getting married. And we'd hate to lose her, that's a fact."—Kansas City Journal.

True.

"He still has the first dollar he ever made."
"Well, that's better than owing now to somebody the last dollar you ever will make."—Detroit Free Press.

Her Explanation.

Mamma—Hazel, I thought I told you not to eat your candy till after dinner. Hazel—I'm not eating it, mamma; I'm only sucking the juice.

Her Preference.

"The doctor says he'll remove my appendix for $1500."

"Oh, George, I'd much rather have a touring car."—Life.

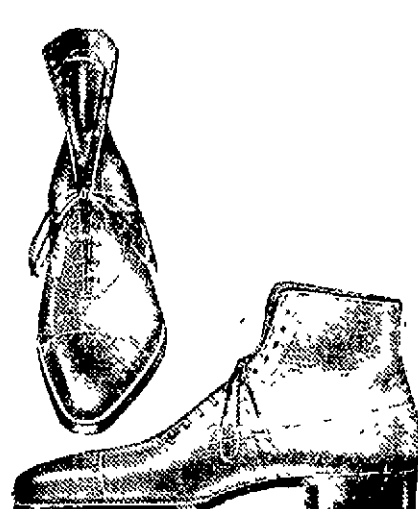

There is nothing more pitiful than a life spent in thinking of nothing but self.—Larrar.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthily without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."—Advertisement.

AUDITORIUM.

Sessue Hayakawa Today.
The idea of the United Nations purchasing a Mexican village for motion picture purposes in these present perilous times, seems more or less unbelievable, but nevertheless, this feat was accomplished by the Lasky-Paramount company for the filming of the scenes in "Jaguar's Claws," in which Sessue Hayakawa will be seen at the Auditorium today for the last time, supported by a cast of unusual excellence. The story has to do with the adventures of a particularly villainous Mexican can bandit and in order to secure the proper atmosphere and settings, the Lasky company sent a representative to negotiate with the local Jeff. or may be. The entire town, including the caboose, was rented for several days to the Lasky company. Everything progressed most satisfactorily until it became necessary to film the scenes where a band of American cowboys ride through the town. The cowboys with their horses were brought down by special train and were then instructed to charge through the principal street. Unfortunately the Jeff. had failed to notify some of the citizens that they were in the employ of the motion picture company, consequently when the cowboys, whirling and howling, and firing revolvers, dashed down the street a number of the residents thought the expected invasion had arrived and very promptly sought places of safety. The last showings should attract.

Sale Opens Tomorrow.
The advance sale of seats for Mr. Fenberg's stock company opening at the Auditorium Monday will go on sale tomorrow. Popular prices will prevail with three matinees a week, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. "One Girl in a Thousand" will be the second bill to be offered by the Auditorium stock company for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

"Some Boy"
The George Walsh smile and the George Walsh personality once more combine with a corking story to make "Some Boy," an assured success. "Some Boy" is George's newest William Fox photoplay.

It starts with George in college. Because he disobeys his father's injunctions in regard to playing baseball, George is expelled; thereupon he finds employment as publicity agent for the Coronado hotel in southern California. On the way he meets Marjorie Milbank, an athletic young business woman who has been carrying on negotiations with George's father regarding the sale of a Texas ranch which she owns.

Marjorie puts up at the Coronado. In an effort to grab some newspaper space, George steals her diamond necklace. The girl, intensely frightened, notifies the house detective and, forsooth, sends a story to the local newspapers. George returns the necklace and tells Marjorie he had taken it. She then hires him as manager of her Texas estate.

They arrive at the ranch just in time. George's father and his fellow conspirators are trying to wrest it away from the girl. In their efforts they even go so far as to kidnap Marjorie, but George's dauntless courage and smiling face finally win the ranch for the girl and the girl for George.

George Walsh is the attraction at the Auditorium tomorrow and Saturday. This is one of the best things he has done in quite some time and is sure to please all.

For Saturday as an extra added feature, the Auditorium will show the Hearst-Pathe news weekly, filled in this number with events that are of the latest interest. War scenes taken on the European front are seen.

Auditorium Stock Co.
Rehearsals are coming along nicely and previews of the spoken drama are in for a real treat when the Auditorium Stock Co. makes its first appearance at the Auditorium Monday evening, July 16. With the opening of this company, no expense in organizing has been spared, a company of artists, carefully selected from the best stock companies in the East and Mr. Fenberg gives his personal guarantee that the company will be at all respects. Special scenery, effects, stage settings that will please the eye, in fact a dollar and half production is promised. The opening play selected is "Jaguar's Claws," a sensational play that thrilled the entire country several seasons ago and in every city visited capacity audiences. Miss Grace Baird as Marjorie Milbank and James H. Cooper as George Walsh will be the talk of Newark after the first performance and in fact the entire company is sure to win friends. "Within the Law," the cheerful intelligibility of a play of this kind and disturbs no one. You have a knowledge for detective stories and tales of illegal adventure. Well, they can be diverting on the stage as they are in print and in this point the Auditorium Stock Co. will shine. It is timely and a most educational drama. Two bills a week are promised, nothing but reality plays to be presented, with a scenic and stage production that will surprise the most exacting of the theatergoers. Three matinees, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday. The pictures as usual will be seen before the drama on each evening and before the matinee. The only change being for the evening, when the pictures will start at 7 p. m. sharp, thus giving all who wish to see the pictures only, a little leeway in getting supper and leaving at the theater in time for the starting of each feature.

"The Crimson Dove," the newest World-Picture Brady-Made which will be shown tonight at the Alhambra Theater in this city. Appearing opposite Mr. Blackwell is charming and beautiful June Elvide. Handsome young Dion Tichard is also seen in the cast and all the other members of the company are capable and are splendidly cast. This is a splendid attraction. See it.

Friday and Saturday.
A specially selected cast will be seen in "Sowers and Reapers," Emmy Wehlen's Metro-tale production to be shown at the Alhambra theater on Friday and Saturday. This unusually strong offering was written and directed by George D. Baker.

Heading the list, and playing opposite Miss Wehlen is George Stuart Christie, a stage favorite who will be seen for the first time on the screen in the new production. He has played prominent parts in the support of Mrs. Pickett, Julia Marlowe, Gertrude Kellom and Henry Miller.

Well known to Metro patrons are Frank Currier and Kate Blanche, both of whom have important parts in "Sowers and Reapers." Miss Blanche, has appeared in "The Pretenders" and Mr. Currier has been seen in "His Father's Son," "The End of the Road," "The Wayward Girl" and other productions. "Pretty Peggy" has a part to her credit in Sessue Hayakawa's production, "Jaguar's Claws." Miss Tarr is a Southern girl, born in Baltimore, and has the happy combination of Southern beauty and Irish wit, which makes all her appearances on the screen attractive. Harry Davenport, Walter Horton and David Thompson are other well known members of the cast.

To Use Local Talent.
In many of the productions that the Auditorium Stock Co. who open an engagement at the Auditorium Monday, there will be some small parts that Mr. Fenberg will engage local talent, that is, persons who believe they have histrionic stage ability. For "Within the Law," Miss Florence Gregory, a clever little miss of our city, will play Fannie, maid to Mary Turner. Sixteen speaking parts in "Within the Law" and a most elaborate production is promised.

PUT MOTHER NOT BABY ON BOTTLE

You never heard this argument before. We all know mother's milk is best for baby. But what to give the mother to enable her to supply baby with a sufficient amount of nourishing milk is the problem.

We have found in hundreds of cases that HEMO is a nourishment that will increase the milk supply and at the same time enable mother to get much needed strength. Then too, it is so appetizing and delicious that it is welcomed at a time when most foods are not.

HEMO makes a delicious food drink by simply adding water. We suggest that you try a 50c package with our guarantee of satisfaction.

The best wishes of their many friends go with them for a long and happy wedded life.

A LOVE OF COUNTRY. A real soldier-song—the kind one would expect to hear sung in camp—"My Own United States"—has been recorded for Columbia by that splendid ensemble of masculine voices, the Columbia Stellar Quartette.

Love of country was never more ardently expressed than in the verses of this stirring song of loyal allegiance—a love of country that "loves every inch of prairie land, every drop of water clear that flows in her rivers wide, every leaf, every blade of grass!"

On the reverse side of the disc is another wartime ballad of courage and pathos, "Just Before the Battle, Mother," sung by the same quartette.

IS REAL DAUGHTER OF THE REVOLUTION

Mrs. Louise K. Thiers.

Mrs. Louise K. Thiers enjoys the distinction of being the only real daughter of the Revolution in the United States. Her father enlisted in the Revolutionary army at the age of nineteen, and was closely associated with General Lafayette. Mrs. Thiers, who is one hundred and three years of age, is the oldest buyer of a Liberty bond.

NO QUESTION

Where shall we go to eat? That's easily solved, for the ones who know, but to the ones who have not been in the habit of eating one of our delicious well-cooked meals it may be a question. So if you have never tried a meal at McDaniels, just drop in the next time and see how a good meal well served really tastes. Dainty delicacies that tickle the palate and make you enjoy a meal here, for McDaniels always SERVES YOU RIGHT.

PLEASANT CHAPEL.

The majority of the citizens of this community attended the funeral of Mr. Wm. Kennedy Sunday morning. Mr. Kennedy was one of Licking county's pioneer citizens, who could recall with a great deal of interest to the rising generation some of the incidents of the early settlers of Ohio.

OUR ARMY OF THRIFTY HOUSEWIVES HAS ITS UNIFORM, TOO

Women employees of the food administration at Washington dressed in the new food conservation costume.

Here is the official food conservation costume to be nationally adopted by all housewives, who will do their utmost to conserve the food supply of the United States. The women in the photo are employees of the food administration in Washington, D. C., and they are costumed in this new frock for good housewives. "The war will be won with food"—so the great duty of the women folk of the country can be seen at once. It is on them that the greater responsibility for food conservation falls, and it is to them that the credit will go.

Dispelling an Illusion.

When you think you can see a ghost, how can you tell whether it really is a ghost or not? A writer gives the following scientific method: "We assume that a person sees an apparition. It may be objective—i. e., having existence outside the observer's mind—or merely a creature of a disordered brain, subjective. The seer, while looking at the vision with both his eyes, gently depresses one eyelid with his forefinger from outside the top eyelid, so causing a squint. If objective, whether bogus or not, two outlines of the 'ghost' will be seen, but one, of course, if it be subjective. One may prove this by trial any time with any object, near or far. I mention this because of the many nervous and brain-worried people who see spooks and to whom it would be better that they should know that the trouble is within themselves and so seek a capable doctor than continue to be haunted, as they believe, by the supernatural."

GIRLS, WIN A PRIZE TRIP TO WASHINGTON!

AMONG the 500 prize trips offered members of the Boys' and Girls' Clubs and Contests conducted by the Ohio State University College of Agriculture, over 200 trips will be offered to the girls.

These are the contests which were transferred from the State Board of Agriculture on March 6. They will be carried on in counties having no regularly organized club work. Special interest is developing concerning the trips on account of the attention the girls are giving to food conservation. Special addresses will be given at Washington to the winners by President Wilson and Herbert Hoover, national food dictator.

Arrangements have been made to tour Washington and its vicinity, including historic Mount Vernon. A chance will be afforded to see congress in session. A corps of special lists of the United States Department of Agriculture, who are all well acquainted with the capital, have offered their services as guides.

Visit New York City.

Following the sojourn at the national capital, the trip will be extended to New York city. A boat ride will be taken up the Hudson as far as Grant's tomb, in Central park. A visit will be made to the American Museum of Natural History, to the heart of the business section and to the harbor.

It is planned that each person who goes on the trip will be presented with a guide book specially prepared for the trip. This will furnish explanatory information concerning each point visited and offer an excellent souvenir of the trip.

Girls to Be Chaperoned.

All the girls will be divided into small groups and will be chaperoned by representatives of the College of Agriculture from the time they arrive at Columbus or Pittsburgh until their return. Their parents, however, are invited to accompany them, and may avail themselves of all the courtesies extended to the prize winners.

It is not too late to join the contest, although enrollment should be made at once to make the best use of the instructional material prepared by the specialists of the College of Agriculture.

Help For Contestants.

Any girl in the state between the ages of 10 and 18 years inclusive may enter. Specialists of the College of Agriculture are adding contestants by giving demonstrations in each county and sending literature and personal letters in answer to questions. Each contestant will exhibit at the county fair, unless otherwise specified, the following things: A loaf of white bread; a pint can each of tomatoes; beans; corn; cherries or plums; pears or peaches; blackberries, raspberries or grapes; two small glasses of jelly; and a small glass of straw berry preserves or rhubarb conserve.

Anyone desiring further information concerning these and the other prize trips which will be offered at the same time to members of clubs conducted by the College of Agriculture should write to W. H. Palmer, State Leader of Boys' and Girls' Clubs, Ohio State University, Columbus, O.

UNCLE SAM'S THRIFT THOUGHT FOR TODAY

By U. S. Dept. of Agriculture

HOME-GROUND WHEAT BREAD.

If clean wheat is available, says the United States Department of Agriculture, it may be ground at home in a coffee mill and the following economical and nutritious bread made:

Over a mixture of 1 tablespoonful sugar and 1 1-4 teaspoonfuls salt in a mixing bowl pour 1 1-4 cups of hot water, or skimmed milk. When the liquid had become lukewarm add 1-2 cake of dry yeast or 1 gill liquid yeast and 1 1-2 cups of home-ground wheat flour. Set over night to rise. In the morning add 1 1-2 cups of flour, beat well, put into greased pan, allow to rise until the bulk is doubled, and bake.

Milady's Boudoir

The Art of Resting.

Even weak women who are not robust enough to take the daily bath will find an alcohol sponge bath strengthening and helpful. Taken just before the daily nap, it tends to give light and refreshing slumber. If one cannot take it at midday, to take it at night before retiring will cause one to sleep well, even if the bed room is not any too cool.

To take down and brush the hair lightly, to rub the tired feet lightly with a little alcohol and water or diluted lemon juice, afterward wiping this off and applying powder, these things will also make the nap more comfortable. But more important is the habit of being able to let go of all of the work and worries of the day, when one would sleep.

Physical relaxation is taught by many nowadays, but mental relaxation is not often heard of. So I counsel my readers who find it hard to sleep when they wish to, and especially in the day time, to learn how to shut out of mind, as by a door, all the puzzling fretting, worrying thoughts, the burdensome, grinding work thoughts, and retain only in the consciousness the thought of peace and rest.

Let the mind fill itself with images of something pleasant, whether it is some of childhood's recollections, of a flower or a bird, or a pleasant scene of a memory of trickling water or flowering tree or herb. Think and dwell upon this pleasant, restful image and watch carefully that this work thought does not slip back once more into the foreground.

If the mind is taught how to relax and to let go in this way sleep may be successfully won by all, even as Macan formerly does it, if only for a matter of a few minutes' rest.

Another aid to hot weather siesta is the rather small thin hair pillow to use as a substitute for the feather cushion. The head should never be too high, that is, the normal and healthy woman, to stretch out flat upon the back and by many to be soothing and restful. Many like to lie upon the floor in summer finding there some little draught of air.

Our Boys and Girls

The average boy stops growing between the ages of 18 and 20, though some reach their full height earlier than this. A few continue to grow after 20, are twenty. It is not natural for everyone to be tall. If anything, it makes you grow more rapidly, plenty of out-door exercise of a kind that is not too vigorous, rest and simple nourishing food will help to add to your height.

You can practice this exercise in your room every morning. It is especially recommended for those who wish to become taller, and it is said that at the end of the year there will be a noticeable difference in the height of one who practices it regularly.

Stand with the feet close together and raise the arms high above the head stretching the tips of the fingers as far toward the ceiling as possible; then bring the arms forward and downward without bending the knees, and try to touch them to the floor. You probably will not be able to do this the first time, but with a little practice you will succeed. Repeat the exercise six times at first, increasing the number of times as you become accustomed to it.

Every Day Etiquette

"I am going to give a little informal dinner to a few friends. Will you please tell me whether the glasses on the dinner table should be placed with the stems up, until the guests are seated?" asked Aunt Grace.

"No, it is correct to have the glasses on the table, stems up. They should be in readiness for serving," replied her sister.

Walnuts as Food.

The ancients held the walnut in high esteem. Mortals could and did exist on acorns, but walnuts were so delicious in taste and flavor, so palatable and nutritious, that they were revered as food only for the gods to dine upon. Modern investigation and modern customs have popularized the use of the walnut to such an extent that it is now regarded not only as a luxury, but as a food of great nutritive value. A chemical analysis of the nut shows that it is six times as nutritious as meat. No vegetable or fruit, with the possible exception of the olive, can be compared with the walnut as a strength giving and fat producing food. All nuts are possessed of elements of nutrition, but the highest in rank is the walnut.—Manchester Guardian.

Wallons and Flemings.

The term "Wallons" is used to designate those Belgians who speak French or a French dialect, while the Flemings are those who speak Dutch or a Dutch dialect.

Life is too short for stupid quarrels.—Philip Gibbs.

train of soldiers for the east last evening, consisting of four coaches and a baggage car. The road has had a number of soldier trains lately but the boys themselves can give no information as to their destination, indicating that a strict censorship is being exercised by the government. When the troop trains arrive in this city the water tanks are not refilled or iced, the government having issued instructions not to use any water from the local plant. The government cannot be ensured for the order when the condition of the water is taken into consideration.

RECREATIONAL WORK PERMANENT FEATURE IN TRAINING CAMPS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, July 12.—Recreational activities in all training camps, as well as the officers' reserve camps, will be provided under direction of the commission on training camp activities, it was announced here today.

Baseball, football, basketball, rowing, track and field sports will be arranged by athletic directors to be appointed to each of the camps. It is expected that recreational work will be a permanent feature of all military units whether stationed in this country or in France.

BULLETINS EXPLAIN EXEMPTION CLAIMS

Columbus, O., July 12.—Judge Advocate General Hubert J. Turney, chief registration officer in Ohio, today sent to each local board in all of the state a bulletin of information for persons registered for the selective draft army. The bulletins were prepared in Washington and furnished the state registration officials to be distributed as widely as possible. They are expected to answer all questions that many be asked by men who claim exemption or who may want information as to ascertaining if they are drafted and other such queries.

"Find out what board has your card and where the office of the board is" is the first thing the registered man is told to do in these instructions.

If you intend to make a claim for exemption on industrial grounds, which includes agriculture, learn what district board to apply to, the applicant is next advised.

Lists showing the names of persons in the jurisdiction of each board and the red ink number of each card are open to inspection. "Inspect the list and inform yourself of your red ink serial number," the instructions direct.

As soon as the draft is completed at Washington complete lists of the red numbers drawn will be published in the press, and will be posted at the office of each board.
The instructions say "Go to your local board and find out the order in which you stand for call."

"As soon as the quotas as assigned for each state, each board will send you a notice to report on a certain day for physical examination but this notice is merely for your convenience. It is up to you to inform yourself when you are called. You must watch the lists and see when you are called for examination."

If you are found physically qualified and file an exemption claim, or if you do not appear for examination, your name will be posted as one called for military service. On the eighth day after the call, copies of the names of persons so posted will be given to the press for publication. Notice that you have been selected for military service will not necessarily order you into service.
Principal exemption grounds are:
a public officer, a minister, a divinity student on May 13, 1917; a subject of Germany, a resident alien who has not taken out first papers, in the case of the no-straightened man, a married man with a wife or child dependent, that you have a widowed mother or infirm parents dependent upon you, that you have a motherless child under 16 to support, and that you are a member of a sect opposed to war.

GOV. COX

PREDICTS THAT AMERICAN MEN OF THE AIR WILL END THE EUROPEAN WAR.

Addresses Ohioans at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Trying for Army Commissions.

Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., July 12.—Belief that "American men of the air" flying in American airplanes will end the war and establish permanent peace, which will be an ample compensation for all sacrifices, were expressed by Gov.
James M. Cox, of Ohio, in an address this afternoon to Ohio men trying for commissions in the officers' reserve corps. The men were also told of the gratitude and pride felt by the people of their state for their offering their services to the country and the civilized world in the interest of democracy.

"From the facts possessed," said Governor Cox, "I form the positive belief that American aviators will break into the skyline of Germany like birds in migration—not for the purpose of killing women and children, nor for wreaking human slaughter in any form, but the American birdmen will reach Essen and Kiel and destroy not only the navy of Germany but every institution which continues the menace of Prussian imperialism. We are not fighting the German people but are seeking to strike down the products of dangerous Prussian leadership."
That the impossibility of its recurrence will be the only things which will make the war worth while and that this is ample compensation for any sacrifices which may be made "in order to give our children and our children's children
a guarantee of peace" was the statement of the Ohio governor.

America's entry into the war was not made on the impulse of the moment, according to Governor Cox,
who continued:

"It is this spirit of an enlightened internationalism—is the cry of relief from nations bent by the burdens of the ages that have stirred the heart of America and sends us forth to help in giving unto others what has been given unto us. It isn't the impulse of the moment which has carried us into the war."
In concluding Governor Cox said:
"We hope the fortunes of war will be kind to you and I repeat not only the wish but the conviction that the slaughter of trench warfare is about to end and that peace will come upon this earth through the men of the air. It will then be your duty to 'hold the fort' until the product of American genius and industry is ready to strike."

ENTIRE PRODUCT STEEL INDUSTRY FOR GOVERNMENT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, July 12.—Formal announcement was made by Secretary Baker today that an agreement had been reached with representatives of the American steel industry in conference here under which the entire product of the industry would be made available for the government's war purposes at a price to be determined on the basis of a cost of production inquiry being conducted by the federal trade commission.

On their side the government representatives assured the steel men that reasonable profits would be included in the price fixed and that provision also would be made to care for the expansion of the industry to meet new demands.

The government also assured the steel men that its war orders would be distributed over the entire iron and steel producing capacity of the country, leaving no single producer or group of producers to carry an unfair share of the war burden.

Secretary Baker issued the following statement:
"At the conference this morning between the committee on American iron and steel institute and the secretary of war, the secretary of the navy, the chairman of the shipping board and Mr. Baruch, further discussions were had of the prospect demands upon the steel industry of the country for supplies of various steel products for carrying on the war."

"The steel men repeated their assurance that their entire product would be available for the need and that they were doing everything possible to stimulate and increase production and speed deliveries. The price to be paid for the iron and steel product furnished was left to be determined after the inquiry by the federal trade commission is completed with the understanding that the price, when fixed, would insure reasonable profits and be made with reference to the expanding needs of this vital and fundamental industry."

"The representatives of the government assured the members of the steel institute that it was the intention of the government to distribute the war requirements over the entire iron and steel producing capacity of the country."

Manufacturers participating in the conference, which began yesterday, are headed by Elbert H. Gary, and constitute a special committee of the American Iron and Steel Institute.
President Wilson's statement, published today, outlining his views on the question of prices, has given all manufacturers a definite outline of the policy the government is following in arriving at a fair rate of payment for the war materials it needs. So far as the present steel conference is concerned, however, Secretary Baker declared that the question of price had not been taken up and would not be considered pending a report from the federal trade commission.

The conferences had more to do with tonnage capacity and possible increase in the output of the industry.

NINE MEN PASSED THE EXAMINATION FOR ARMY SERVICE

Ten men, out of sixteen who had applied for enlistment in the new divisional motor train passed the examination Wednesday afternoon, when the examinations were held in the Y. M. C. A. building. A new examining physician made the test, especially stiff one, turning down six men of the sixteen who applied for minor physical defects.

Those who passed the examination and are now members of the train were Jayne Clark, Third and Church street, mounted police; Adam D. Summers, 141 East Main street, mounted police; Eugene Rosotter, Kikerville, mounted police; Harry H. Varber, 329 Clarendon street, chauffeur; Walter H. Keller, R. D. 8, Newark, chauffeur; Lowell H. Body, 10 1-2 West Church street, chauffeur; John E. Sprouse, 96 Manning street, agent; Ralph L. Wright, Utica, agent; James A. Plummer, 390 Union street, in Company B, Fourth Ohio Infantry.

As no orders have been received by Private Cornack who is in charge to close the recruiting headquarters the booth will remain open. Lieut. Bailey is expected to return to the city tomorrow.

The following applied today for enlistment: Rosato Francisco, Racoon avenue, mounted police; John W. Stump, 120 Wilson street, chauffeur; Olga Nye, 21st street, and James F. Grady, 178 South Fourth street.

Possibilities of Bad Verse.

No one has yet written any adequate appreciation of the possibilities of bad verse—the verse, I mean, that is composed at the crises of life, on the mountain tops of exultation and in the joyless valleys, by persons unskilled and ordinarily unpoetic; the verse that is hidden away in vases and bureau drawers, never to be shown and always produced in some moment of vanity. Only a true poet could write a just appreciation of bad verse, and from his pen the words come too much tainted with the implication of irony. The quality of bad verse is not strained. It is written to suit no magazine's policy. It is rewarded with no check. It is a brave denying of reality, a prayer that is its own answer. It is, to use Maeterlinck's phrase, "a making or invoking of wings" by creatures that creep on their bellies.—New Republic.

Hair of the Bear.

How many hairs are on a square inch of a bear's skin? A count, carefully checked, because prizes were awarded to the winners closest to the actual number, disclosed that one square inch of this particular bear skin held just 10,543 hairs.—New York Sun.

Shoes of an Army. The old saw about an army moving on its belly is all wrong. An army—horse, foot and gun—moves on its feet, and marching and walking—as the average civilian, not a policeman or a postman, understands walking about his daily vocation are two very different things. An infantryman on his feet carries about sixty pounds of dead weight, forty-five pounds or so of pack, eight pounds or so of rifle and the rest in ammunition or separate equipment. He cannot choose his own gait, and he has to negotiate all kinds of ground—winter roads congested with frozen ruts, slippery trails of mud and water, rocks, hot sand. And more than half the time a change of shoes is for him a luxury. He is very apt to keep the same pair on night and day, wet or dry. If his shoes are not right or if his feet are not sound he cannot last a week with a moving command, and it is entirely possible that he will even have trouble in a trench.—World's Work.

Wooden Pipes For Water.

In these days of iron and cement it makes one sit up to read the report from the New England waterworks on wood pipe for water supply. They claim it is preserved and not rusted or corroded by water; it is not corroded by any substance or destroyed by acids or salts; its carrying capacity is 20 per cent greater than cast iron pipe and remains constant, while that of metal pipe decreases with age; it does not taint or affect fluids going through it; it does not burst if frozen, the elasticity of the wood preventing it; it requires less labor and experience to lay in place than metal pipe; it can, when service pipes are not taken off, be laid in shallower ditches than metal pipe, for it is not easily affected by frost; while more or less joints show slight leakage when the pipe is first filled, they soon swell up and give less trouble in the end than cast iron pipe.—Los Angeles Times.

What a Melon Did. The notoriously corrupt Russian minister of justice, Tscheglovodoff, had a great and well known passion for melons. A story was told in the duma how he was once traveling through Russia on a tour of inspection and on reaching a remote outpost was met at the station by the usual high court officials.

His visit to the place had been long advertised, so that one little man, a very obscure person even in the official world of the district, had had time to grow an immense melon. When the minister of justice had concluded his reception at the railway station the small man came forward and dutifully presented Tscheglovodoff with the melon, upon which he had for months lavished the utmost care.

The minister was so delighted that he thereupon made the man a judge!

Gold Leaf.

There appears to be some mystery about the origin of gold leaf. It is found, for example, in connection with the most ancient known mummies, having been used for covering teeth, tongue, skin, etc. Sometimes it is also found on the coffins. Gold leaf was also used on the tombs and monuments of ancient Egypt. The process of making gold leaf has thus been known since the eighth century B. C. In the eleventh century it seems to have attained as high a degree of perfection as today. The gold leaf on some ancient Grecian pottery, indeed, is as thin as that now used.

The Usual Motion. To a judge at St. Joseph, Mo., an old negro once applied for a marriage license. It was not the province of the judge to issue such a paper; but, knowing the applicant's history, he asked: "Ephraim, were you ever married before?"

"Yes' once, jedgo," was the reply. "Wasn't that enough?" "Mebbe, jedgo, but I want a new trial."—St. Louis Republic.

Plenty of Rest Is Necessary. The best work, however hard, is always methodical enough to permit of timely rest and regular nutrition, and the full recognition of this fact is a mere question of public utility which we hope to see more and more widely admitted into practice.—London Lancet.

An Original Introduction. An introduction is a conventional thing, but it is still possible to impart a little originality into the formula. "This is grandpa," said the six-year-old proudly as he introduced his friend. "I pray for him every day," he added impressively.—Manchester Guardian.

Just the Thing. "What is this?" "Sympathetic ink." "I think I'll take some. I have a friend who is in, and I must write a letter of condolence."—Pittsburgh Post.

A Culinary Puzzle. Walter (seeing dissatisfaction on guest's face): "Wasn't the dinner cooked to suit you, sir?" Guest: "Yes, all but the bill. Just take that back and tell them to boil it down a little!"

Different Answer. "Am I the first girl you have ever loved?" "No, you are the sixteenth, and my taste has been improving right along."—Kansas City Journal.

We lament that today we received so much that is good from the world and gave so little back.—Michael Fairless.

It won't be the first time we have liked the Germans. George III. was a German.—Rochester Herald.

A FORMER RESIDENT DIES AT SEA ABOARD THE PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. Fred H. Moull, of the Jefferson road has received a letter from Alexander Samuelson, a former resident of this city, now residing at Terre Haute, Ind., telling of the death of the latter's son, which occurred at sea on board the United States warship, Pennsylvania. The young man removed with his parents from this city seventeen years ago, having formerly resided in Jefferson road. The letter follows: Terre Haute, Ind., July 9, 1917. Dear Fred: We received a telegram yesterday, stating that Elmer had died at sea and asking where to ship the body. We answered at once to ship to this city, but have received no notice of when it will arrive here. Have no further particulars of this death at the present time. He died aboard the ship Pennsylvania while it was at sea. Elmer was home for a three day furlough only two weeks ago. Very truly yours, Samuel Samuelson.

COMPANY B MEN OF FOURTH OHIO TO REPORT SUNDAY

The members of Co. B, Fourth Ohio Infantry, who recently enlisted and who live in or near Newark, will report for duty to Lieut. Earl W. Fuhr at Hotel Warden at 12.30 p. m., Sunday, July 15, 1917. They will leave for Columbus via the B. & O. in a special coach at 1:40 p. m. Company B will be quartered in the Art building at the State Fair Grounds for about two weeks before leaving for camp. Lieut. Fuhr and a sergeant will be in Newark early Sunday morning.

Painting a Battleship. One hundred tons of paint, costing approximately $25,000, represents the initial color requirements for a new battleship. The annual upkeep cost may exceed this sum, since it is the custom to repaint the different parts of a modern war vessel every three to six months. This would indicate an annual paint protection outlay of nearly $1,000,000 for the navy. If to this sum is added the cost of painting the thousands of lake boats, freighters, river steamers and pleasure craft some conception may be had of the importance of marine painting. Among the most important naval paints are those which are applied to protect the submerged parts of the hulls from corrosion or fouling by barnacles. The word barnacle is the popular name for that form of marine crustacea which consists of a clam-like body lodged in a shell that is often formed in a series of rings or plates. They adhere with great tenacity. Without anti-fouling paints the speed of vessels would be greatly retarded by the piling up of a thick incrustation of barnacles and attached sea grass.—Boston Herald.

Then She Smiled. "Dear me," she wailed, "I'm getting a double chin!" Hubby tried to console her. "Your chin is so pretty," said he, "that you shouldn't kick because Mother Nature is giving you another one."—Kansas City Journal.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Bright's Disease. Diet, according to a prominent physician, is the most important factor in the care or control of Bright's disease. "Of all diseases," the doctor says, "Bright's disease is most influenced by habits of eating and of life generally. This holds true to every form of the disease. If a man has a necessarily fatal form of the disease, if he will live according to the rules he can add a few months or a few years to his life. If he has a chronic but slowly progressive downward form he can almost live out the expectancy of a man of his years by playing the game fair. If he has a mild form of the disease he can live the law and he will find that his symptoms will entirely disappear. The diet of a person with chronic nephritis should be simple in quality and limited in quantity. He should especially refrain from eating heavy meals. While neither a feast nor a famine is advisable, the former is the more harmful."

"Chinese Mark Twain" Chautauqua Week

DR. NG POON CHEW, appointed vice consul of the Chinese government at San Francisco in 1913 and editor of the first Chinese daily paper in this country, is to speak on this season's Chautauqua program. He is eminently qualified to lecture on the new China and her relation to the western world. As a journalist and a statesman Dr. Chew has done much to cement friendly relations between this country and the great Mongolian Empire. He is known to the platform world as the "Chinese Mark Twain." His wit is spontaneous, and his patriotism is unquestioned.
